NEW ERA BEGUN ON MERGERS OF BIG BUSINESS

New Policy Helps Prevent Il-

Washington—An entirely new era in the relations between the government and big business has been begun which may do more toward the prevention of illegal mergers and trusts than all the Sherman law prosecutions in a decade.

Instead of waiting until a merger is an accomplished fact or a combination in restraint of trade is already in operation, the department of justice has invited business men to bring their problems here for an informal ruling so as to prevent if possible, violations of the law.

Under the supervision of Col. William J. Donovan, assistant attorney general, this policy has been gradually developed until today it can be announced that within the past six months an average of 40 per cent of big business mergers or combinations have been taken under consideration and in most instances the advice of the department of justice has been accepted.

In two or three notable cases, the department's view that a law could be violated has been challenged by the lawyers and the matter has been taken to the courts for adjudication. Prominent among these cases is that of the Rand-Kardex company which insists that the merger of the Library Bureau and the Globe-Warner company is not a merger of competitors in the sense in which the term is used generally because in only a few articles there is any similarity of product and the one concern sells to large concerns and the other to the smaller.

In other words the department of justice has undertaken to find out just what the courts will define as competition. This is in the nature of a test case and will be of assistance both to the department and to business men when it is resolved.

The new policy of the department of justice does not mean that any immunity is given or promised. Nor is any approval given to a proposed merger. All that the attorney general says is that the department after due investigation has found nothing which appears to be a violation of law at the time the inquiry was made but that the right is reserved to render another opinion or take any action later if the circumstances should change or new facts be developed.

TERRORIST FOUND DEAD IN CHICAGO

Body of George Martin Is Discovered at Wheel of Automobile

Chicago—(AP)—The body of George Martin, a former convict sought for a year as an arch terrorist in labor strife, was found Wednesday night slumped over the wheel of an automobile in a west side alley.

Martin was shot through the head and apparently has been overtaken by gang vengeance as the first victim of a recent renewal of warfare among labor factions, blamed for a series of bombings.

A year ago he was indicted with several others for the operation of a "bomb trust" but escaped arrest. His death disclosed, through fingerprints that the fugitive also was known as Matri Siano who was sent to the penitentiary for killing a man in 1910, and later was paroled.

Santa Claus Finds It's Hard To Get To Appleton

As expected, Santa is having some difficulty on his trip southward almost a month earlier than usual. A letter received from him today indicates that it was hard for his reindeer to make their usual speedy progress because of lack of snow in parts of Canada.

Never disappointing any one with faith in him, says his letter, Santa quickly sensed the situation and chartered a fleet of aeroplanes with which to proceed.

The most important thing in Santa's letter, however, is that he will let us know within the next day or so just what he will be here. According to the progress he has been making since he left Cringle Valley, he should arrive in Appleton within the next few days.

SAYS 'LETTER' IN AIMEE CASE IS ONLY 'BUNK'

Ormiston Writes Attorney, Denying "Dear, Darling Man" Letter

Chicago—(AP)—Edward H. S. Martin, attorney for Kenneth G. Ormiston missing radio operator of Angelus temple, Los Angeles, Friday made public a letter, purporting to be from Ormiston, who branded as "bunk" the
"dear, darling man" letter given out by District Attorney Keyes, and also the trunk of feminine finery found in New York.

It was Ormiston's first expression
since the trunk contents and letters were made public. California authorities had announced their belief that finery found in the trunk belonged to Alma Sample McPherson, Los Angeles
evangelist, and that "dear darling man" letter was a missive exchanged between Mrs. McPherson and the radio operator.

In the letter Ormiston repeated his denials that he was with Mrs. Mc-Pherson on a tour in a cottage at Carmel-by-the-sea.

ORMISTON'S LETTER

Stating that his attorney had informed him that "the dear public wants to know what I think about the amazing 'trunk and love letter,'" Ormiston wrote:

"My opinion can be adequately expressed in one word—'Bunk.' Regarding the trunk I naturally have no means of knowing. I do not know, if the trunk reported as delivered to Mr.
Keyes in Los Angeles is or is not my property. As for its contents, I know nothing, however, am silent, or evasive, regarding the condition of Ferdinand.

"The newspapers inform me in great headlines that I was a 'dear darling man,' in some lady's estimation.

"Had I been the recipient of the missive in question, I am quite certain that I would have failed miserably to grasp its import and the signature 'Jackie' would have rung no bell of recognition in my mind. At any rate I did not receive it."

The letter was signed "K G O signing off. Good night."

FORD HELPS ARREST AIR PILOT CHARGED WITH RUM RUNNING

Detroit—(AP)—An airplane containing 14 cases of whiskey was seized at the Ford Airport early Friday at the request of Henry Ford. Henry Spence was arrested as the aviator who brought the plane to the airport Thursday night.

A night watchman discovered the liquor cargo. Mr. Ford was notified and the state police were called. The automobile maker threw out several hundred dollars
at the field Thursday night with officers in hopes the aviator would return to his plane. Spence, when arrested, denied he was the pilot of the machine.

King Benjamin Still Is Ruler In House Of David

Benton Harbor, Mich. —(AP)—Benjamin Purnell, whose four years of voluntary exile were terminated by a raid on his hiding place Wednesday by state police, still reigns as king at the House of David.

Indictments charging criminal assault, damage suits, actions started by state authorities to seek dissolution of the colony, and even his apparent serious illness, will not dim-ish the spiritual significance of his rule, says his attorney and devoted follower, H. T. Dewhurst.

"Benjamin is the seventh messenger and he alone can bring the message to the Israelites," Dewhurst insists. The attorney denies that there is any movement afoot to dethrone
the leader.

"His persecution is foreordained," Dewhurst says. "As far back as 1903,

QUEEN'S TRAIN ON WAY TO NEW YORK

Marie Plans to Leave U. S.
Next Wednesday on the Berengaria

Queen Marie's Train—(AP)—Queen
Marie Friday was speeding towards
New York to embark for Rumania
and her king, Ferdinand, who is ill.
She has no thought of further sightseeing or receptions and she virtually concluded her tour Thursday at Louisville.

Visitors of other American cities have been cancelled, and Queen Marie will sail on the first steamer available to the Berengaria, leaving for Europe next Wednesday. The only point in the day's itinerary for which a pause
was ordered was St. Louis, Ohio. There her majesty planned to present autographed photographs to the boys in a founding home. Colonel John H.
Carroll, who is acting as host to Marie, was raised in the home.

Prince Nicholas wishes to see Detroit and Cleveland. He planned to leave the Royal train at North Bend, Ohio, and then leave for Cincinnati and then leave for Detroit.

KING SERIOUSLY ILL

Vienna—(AP)—The condition of King Ferdinand of Rumania, is considered in banking circles here which are in close touch with Bucharest to be so serious as to justify the anxiety of Queen Marie, who has cancelled her tour in the United States. All official sources, however, are silent, or eva-
Ferdinand.

and his 4-year-old son of Kelsey and Gust Young, section foreman at Sax, were found in a state drainage ditch near Sax, beneath Marshall's overturned car.

NASH HEAD THINKS BUSINESS OUTLOOK FOR 1927 IS GOOD

Kenosha—(AP)—Declaring that nothing exists in the general business condition of the country today which should "cause us to feel we are not entitled to expect a normal business for the year 1927," Charles W. Nash, president of the Nash Motors company, looked up as a spokesman for the automobile industry, made a most optimistic prediction regarding business conditions in a statement issued at the offices of the company here Friday.

Admitting that the south had been hit by "too good a cotton crop and that crops in the northwest were somewhat cut, he declared that these districts were rapidly merging from these drawbacks. He declared that there was little indication of any political turmoil, which augured well for business for 1927. He declared foreign trade to be in a much more promising condition than heretofore.

33 INDICTED ON CHARGE OF RUM RUNNING

Thirteen Accused Are Coast Guardsmen; Bribery
Also Charged

New York—(AP)—Thirty-three men, 13 of them coast guardsmen, are accused in an indictment of being members of a rum ring, which has operated its own vessels between Canadian ports and the United States since 1923 and is alleged to be the offshoot of the $7,000,000 Dwyer organization that operated ocean going steamships. The indictments, returned Thursday by the federal grand jury,
charge conspiracy to violate the national prohibition and tariff acts, and bribery. One specific bribe of $2,700
was charged to Fred J. Lewis and William F.
Hughes while they were coast guard-men on patrol boat C. G. 126 was cited.

Two brothers, Edward and Frank Costello, were named as the leaders of the ring, which was said to be an offshoot of the old William V. Dwyer ring, now broken up. Both the Costellos worked for and were indicted with Dwyer as did several others.

BUSINESS WAS ELABORATE

Of the 33 men indicted, 19 are already under arrest. Business of the ring was conducted on an elaborate scale, federal officials said.

A charge that coast guard cutters transferred cargoes of liquor from rum row to points on Long Island made in the indictments. The liquor was then brought to Manhattan by truck.

Government officials said that after the conviction of Dwyer and associates, his gigantic ring went out of business, throwing many experienced rum runners on the market. The Costellos and others rapidly picked them up, the field for operations being much wider without the Dwyer monopoly.

DOCTOR TAKES STITCHES IN INJURED EYEBALL

Two stitches were taken on the left eye ball and then on the lid of Tom Mullen, 53, of Kaukauna, to close a wound caused by a piece of flying steel at the Molech Foundry company plant at Kaukauna Thursday afternoon. The delicate operation was performed by an Appleton eye specialist. Mullen was taken to Elizabeth hospital. It will be at least a week before he will be known whether he will lose the sight of one eye.

Book Slurs Royalty And Peers Of Great Britain

London—(AP)—Members of the royal family and persons whose names are held in high esteem throughout the British empire are roughly handled
by an anonymous writer in a book,
The Whispering Gallery, which has just come off the press in London.

The Daily Mail denounces the book
as "scandalous and impudent."
The whole thing is a reckless and impudent invention, containing vulgar
errors of style and surprising ignorance of facts."

A description of the late emperor of Russia as "a cad, coward, butcher and blackguard" suggests to the Daily Mail that the book may be a "piece of insidious Bolshevist propaganda."

The newspaper prints repudiations
by the earl of Balfour, the earl of Oxford and Asquith, Viscount Cecil, Winston Churchill and others of incidents and conversations in which,
according to the author of the book,

STATE RESTS TODAY IN HALL MURDER TRIAL

Judge Denies Motion to Strike Fingerprint Evidence
from Record

BULLETIN
Jersey City, N. J.—(AP)—Mrs. Jane
Gibson Friday issued a statement from her sick bed in city hospital, asserting attempts had been made to seal with money her eye witness testimony of the Hall-Mills murder and that, now she had told the truth in open court, she was "ready to die with a good, clear conscience."

Jersey City, N. J.—(AP)—The state rested its case against Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens, Friday afternoon
after 13 days of testimony.

Judge Parker denied a defense motion that testimony as to fingerprints
in connection with a calling card of the Rev. E. W. Hall, found near his body, which the state has contended
bears the print of the left index finger of Willie Stevens, be stricken from the record. Argument was heard with the jury retired. Attorney McCart argued that the state had not accounted for the identity and integrity of the card during all of the four years since the killings.

RAZOR AS EVIDENCE

A razor, which had been used in the case at intervals was offered in evidence during the testimony of Frank Caprio, a private detective, who said
he worked on the case three weeks
and received the razor offered in evidence from the late Azariah Bookman, one time Somerset-set prosecutor. The defense questioned Caprio at length on his activities and past life, the cross-examination being concluded at the luncheon recess.

Barbara Tough, maid in the Hall
home at the time of the slaying, started the day's testimony briefly with testimony that she could not say positively that she saw a razor, the property of the Rev. Mr. Hall in its accustomed place in a bathroom medicine cabinet after the death of the minister and choir singer, killed together more than four years ago.

Alvin H. Goddard, ammunition expert, said that bullets examined by him as having been taken from the body of Mrs. Mills were .32 calibre and were fired from an automatic pistol, probably a Colt.

LOCAL PEOPLE LOSE IN MILWAUKEE FIRE

Former Appleton Men Operate Plant Destroyed With Loss Of $250,000

Fire of undetermined origin early Thursday night destroyed the plant of the Shellmar Products Co., Milwaukee, in which a large number of Appleton people are interested, causing a loss of about $250,000. It is said the plant was well insured.

W. J. Miller and E. W. Martin, both former Appleton residents, are vice president and secretary of the company, and quite a number of other Appleton persons are interested financially.

The Shellmar company manufactures a glass-like paper wrapping material, and the inflammable materials used in the work burned rapidly, making a roaring furnace of the plant
and defying efforts of the fire fighters
for more than an hour.

The blaze was discovered in the press room of the company's plant
by one of the nine workmen compis-ing the night crew.

Machinery valued at more than $200,000 virtually was ruined and the building valued at about $50,000 was entirely razed.

Temporary quarters will be sought
at once for a new plant started, W. J. Miller said.

BRUSEWITZ AGAIN HEADS HIGHWAYS

Commissioner for Last Thirteen Years Re-elected for Two Year Term

Highway Commissioner A. G.
Brusewitz was elected for another two year term by the county board Friday morning. Mr. Brusewitz has served the county in this position for 13 years, it was pointed out in his formal letter of appointment.

The vote was, Brusewitz, 27;
Schindler, 14.

Mr. Schindler, the present county surveyor, was the only opponent the commissioner had. The appointment of a highway commissioner is considered one of the most important tasks facing the county board every other year on account of the large sums of money spent annually through the office.

EIGHT DIE IN WRECK OF ENGLISH EXPRESS

Rotherham, Yorkshire, England — (AP)—Eight persons were killed and an equal number injured, some seriously, in an unusual accident on the London, Midland and Scottish railway, between Park Gate and Rot-terham Friday. A car in a freight train became derailed as the express from Birmingham to York was approaching and fell across the express, ripping open the sides of several coaches. The injured were brought here.

15 REPORTED DEAD IN EXPLOSION ON OIL TANK STEAMER

Baltimore, Md. — (AP)—Fifteen were reported killed and 75 injured as workers plunged frantically into the blazing bulk of the Norwegian oil tanker, Mantilla, wrecked by an explosion in the dry dock of the Bethlehem Steel Co. at Sparrows Point Friday afternoon.

Records at the dry dock indicated that the Mantilla's crew of 35 including Captain Danielson, were aboard with approximately 50
drydock workers when one of the vessels tanks blew up from an unknown cause. The spray of blazing oil thrown by the blast fired the ship from stem to stern. Nearby buildings were damaged. Dock hands rallied to the aid of firemen
in attempting to hold in check while volunteers entered the hulk
to bring out the dead and injured.

CONGRESS MAY WAGE FIGHT ON TAX PROPOSAL

Opposition to Coolidge Rebate Plan Is Developing Among Leaders

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Indications that the principal battle of the approaching session of congress will rago about the tax reduction continue to multiply. Opposition to the administration plan for returning the treasury surplus to taxpayers through credit allowances on their payments
next year has been disclosed in Republican circles, and Democratic leaders seek enactment of permanent tax reduction.

A definite plan to reduce taxes by at least $225,000,000 has been worked out by Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, and Representative
Garner, Democrat, Texas. Their objective would be attained through reduction of income tax on corporations
from 13 1/2 to 11 per cent or lower, repeal of excise taxes, and modification, possibly, of the tobacco tax and surtaxes
on individual incomes between $30, 000 and $50,000.

ANDASTE SAFE AT PORT

Milwaukee—(AP)—Sucking the tempestuous seas, the Andaste, missing since Wednesday was safely docked in port Friday at Sturgeon Bay. The Andaste, returning from Muskegon,
where it delivered a load of crushed
rock, ran into a storm in midlake.
Captain Frank Savelle, in the head of the vessel, reported that the ship
when near the Wisconsin shore found heavy seas running. It carried a crew of 21 men.

As reports came of the safety of the Andaste which docked at Sturgeon Bay at 11 o'clock Thursday evening,
coast guardsmen were on the lookout for the Russian tug. Freighters overdue at Ashland, with a crew of 20 men, and five coal freighters which failed to arrive on schedule at Milwaukee.

The tug Butterfield and barge docked
Friday morning at Ashland after battling heavy northeast winds for 14 hours. The tug and barge with a scant supply of food, dropped anchor in Ashland harbor Tuesday but were unable to dock because of heavy sea storm Friday. Dock officials call the rudderless trip of the Peter A. B.
Widener from Isle Royal, the head of the lakes one of the most remarkable occurrences in recent navigation.

WIRES ARE CRIPPLED

Milwaukee—(AP)—Delayed air rail
and lake traffic and crippled wire communication resulted Friday from the snowstorm which swept the state Thursday.

The cold spell, which brought lower temperatures and heavy snowfall throughout Wisconsin is expected to last three or four days and will be felt especially in the Great Lakes region. Six to eight inches of snow was reported in northern Wisconsin.
W. P. Stewart, meteorologist predicted
Friday that temperatures will reach a probable minimum of 20 degrees
Saturday and will drop a little lower
Sunday night and Sunday.

R. W. Randall, pilot of a Minneapolis-Chicago plane was forced down
at Randolph.

The Northwestern road was blocked today on the line between Green Bay and Duck Creek by 15 telephone poles which fell in the storm.

The steamer William H. Fitzgerald, due here with coal Thursday night
has not arrived. The steamer W. F.
D. Fitch had a tempestuous voyage from Mackinac and is now docked
at Waubesa.

Wire trouble due to high winds and snow was reported from northeastern Wisconsin and the upper peninsula.

WINNER OF NOBEL PRIZE REFUSES U. W. POSITION

Stockholm—(AP)—Professor Theodore Svedberg of the University of Uppsala, Sweden, who has just been awarded the Nobel chemistry prize for 1926, has refused an invitation to become professor of chemistry at the University of Wisconsin. Substantial funds had been promised him just prior to the announcement of the award to enable him to continue his research work, but he now makes it known that he intends to employ the money he received from the Nobel

TEACHERS STUDY CHARACTER WORK WITH PRINCIPAL

Plan Conference With Students on Credits Toward Graduation

Guidance work in character and conduct was discussed at the meeting of home room teachers with H. H. Helble, principal of Appleton high school, Wednesday afternoon. Teachers of senior home rooms will confer with their students this week. It was decided on the credits toward graduation.

This will be the first year in the history of the school, the principal said, that an effort has been made to check the number and types of credits of seniors as early in the year as possible. Any time will be left to rectify mistakes which have been made by students or their advisors in the number and value of credits. Teachers will check to see that the students will have the 16 credits required for graduation by June and that they have filled the group requirements for college entrance. They contemplate enrolling in an institution of higher education. During the second semester any deficiencies may be fulfilled, the principal said.

Among the special topics on character and conduct studied by the teachers were how to mark conduct, what constitutes good conduct, the relation between good conduct and practice, and how to study.

Special reports were asked by the principal this week on pupils in the home rooms who were not doing the quality of work expected of their intellects. If the mind and work do not correlate, Mr. Helble plans to talk to the student and his parents in an effort to find the reason and to remedy matters. The standard of measuring the student's mind will be taken from the intelligence tests passed last year.

PLAN LUNCHEON CLUB VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE

Plans for a luncheon club volleyball league to function during the winter months were started last week by Arthur P. Jensen, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. The league would be composed of the four local luncheon clubs, the Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary and Y's Men, rivals in the Lark Softball league this summer. The schedule would run throughout the winter, each team playing a match weekly. Bona fide members of each club will be eligible and general rules will be similar to softball league rules of the summer. All clubs have many members who pay the game in gymnasium classes at the association. A trophy probably would be awarded to the winning team.

Mr. Jensen also is making plans for an industrial bowling league to play on the association alleys. He hopes to get either six or eight firms of the city to enter teams. Four firms already have signified their intention of joining, and Mr. Jensen has a list of six more likely prospects who have been in past Y. M. C. A. industrial pin leagues. Games would be bowled three evenings a week, on Monday, Tuesday and either Thursday or Friday.

WANT CHURCH ADDITION FINISHED BY CHRISTMAS

Workmen have completed painting First Baptist church to conform with the color of the new bricks used in the $40,000 addition. The woodwork of the old church will be decorated this week. Windows have been placed in the addition, the new heating plant probably will be finished this week and finishing of the interior has been started. An effort will be made to have the addition completed before Christmas.

HORSES WILL NOT VANISH FOR WHILE

185 Less Horses in County This Year Than Last, Report Shows

At the present percentage of decrease it will be slightly more than 100 years before the last horse in Outagamie county is preserved for museum purposes, according to the annual report of Income Assessor Leo J. Toonen.

In 1925, report shows there were 10,000 horses and mules listed as tax payers on a valuation of $754,387. In 1924 a decrease to 19,637 such animals was noted. The valuation showed a corresponding reduction to $701,735 or nearly $23,000.

The census and villages in 1926 list only 683 head of draft or driving stock.

Automobiles, pleasure cars and trucks, show a moderate increase and one more motorcycle is reported in 1926 than for the previous year.

There are, according to the report, 9,203 automobiles, valued at an assessed average of $254.90 each, or a total of $2,347,237; true value $3,200,000. True value of motorcycles is established as $2,120.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT OF "Y" TO CONDUCT "CLEANUP DRIVE"

Group of Leading Workers Will Attend Dinner Friday Evening

A group of the leading workers of the boys' department in the 1926 membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A. have been invited to attend a supper at 6:30 Friday evening at the association to plan for a "cleanup campaign." The plans call for securing 50 more boys memberships by Dec. 1 to make the boys' department total 425 for the year. Prospect cards will be distributed and the boys will start an intensive two-week campaign.

Three prizes will be given to the three high producers in the short campaign and the work will count toward ship buttons. The boys got a start on these in the regular campaign. A bronze button is awarded for three members, a silver for five, a gold for ten and a diamond studded gold button for twenty-five. The boys also can join the Spitzerklub club if they secure at least three members. The additional drive was suggested

PHYSICAL COMMITTEE HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The newly-appointed physical department committee of the Y. M. C. A. will hold its first meeting at 12:15 Saturday noon, according to A. P. Jensen, physical director. The meeting was called by A. C. Remley, committee chairman. Other members of the group are George H. Packard, C. O. Baetz, Dr. R. V. Landis, G. L. Carleton, E. S. Godfrey, R. H. Marston and C. O. Gochbauer.

After a brief get-acquainted session plans for the year's work will be started. Several important questions such as methods of increasing the size of the gymnasium classes and methods of getting new association members into the classes, will be discussed.

ed by the boys themselves, who felt that they had been unable to get several likely prospects during the original campaign. They believe that they can get these boys now and therefore asked the boys' department to stage the extra drive. If the membership can be raised to 425 by the drive it will reach 500 boys of Appleton by September, with the summer memberships, according to John V. Pugh, boys' work secretary of the association.

Ralph Everts, as Anthony Allison, the hero of the play, is the leading man and plays opposite Miss Kitzinger.

The handball, wrestling and boxing rooms of the Y. M. C. A. which were repaired and repainted this week, will be ready for use by Saturday or Warner, general secretary of the association. The handball courts had been in constant use until the work was started and many reservations came in this week. The boxing and wrestling rooms are new this fall. They have been set up in one of the old handball courts.

CAMP SITE CARES FOR 3,910 DURING FIRST SIX MONTHS

Tourists Spend More Than $10,000 in City During Brief Sojourns Here

Appleton's tourist camp site accommodated 3,910 persons from practically every state in the union last summer, records compiled by Alderman Wenzel Hassman, chairman of public grounds and buildings committee, indicates. A record of the visitors was kept for six months, beginning in May.

The visitors were transported in 1,408 automobiles, and their expenditures in the city are estimated considerably in excess of $10,000, according to his report. Only about half the cars which tourists were asked to fill out, indicating the amount of money they spent during their sojourn here, were returned to the Earl Lutz, caretaker, he reported. From the records available, tourists' expenditures totaled $6,723.16.

August appears to be the most popular month of the year for travel, the report indicates. There were 1,403 visitors registered at the camp that month, and their expenditures, which is believed to represent only about half of the actual amount, was $2,487.11.

Following is a table listing the number of cars and persons registered and the expenditures of those who reported them during each of the six months:

	Cars	People	Money spent
May	38	133	$ 266.33
June	113	405	810.18
July	464	3,284	1,739.08
Aug.	577	1,403	2,487.11
Sept.	168	517	1,034.17
Oct.	48	168	336.29

Totals .. 1,408 3,910 $6,723.16

If funds are provided in the 1927 budget, a number of improvements will be made at the camp next spring, according to Mr. Hassman. Two more kitchens and several comfort stations will be constructed and one or two other minor projects completed. If the improvements are made, a charge will be made of tourists.

The mailing system for selling Red Cross Christmas seals will be used this year as it has been in the past. It has been announced at the Appleton Women's club which will have charge of the campaign. About 2,500 letters will be sent to Appleton citizens next week telling of the need for help with the tuberculosis situation in Wisconsin and enclosing 100 or more of the bright colored stamps.

Mrs. William Nemacheck, health chairman at the club, will be in charge of the campaign. Citizens are asked by the committee to buy all or a part of the stamps sent to them. A greater number of seals probably will be undertaken by the club than in other years here.

SAYS NEWSPAPERS REFLECT SOCIETY

Badger Journalism Director Says Papers Picture Tastes
of People

Madison—(AP)—Merits and defects of present day newspapers are largely a reflection of the strength and weaknesses of society, Prof. W. G. Bleyer, director of the course in Journalism declared Wednesday night in an address before the concluding session of the Sigma Delta Chi convention. The address was delivered before more than sixty delegates of the national professional journalistic fraternity.

"To the extent that newspapers have become superficial and standardized," Prof. Bleyer pointed out, "they show the effects of the superficiality and standardization everywhere manifested in American life. In their efforts to secure the largest possible circulation in order to obtain the greatest possible volume of advertising, they have succeeded in reaching a greater proportion of the whole population than ever has been reached by the press in any other country. To accomplish this result, many papers have found it desirable to present such news such features as will make the widest possible appeal."

"Since newspaper publishing has become a highly competitive business, editors and publishers have generally sought to meet the demands by giving the public what it wants. The democratization of the press thus ran parallel with the democratization of schools and colleges, theatres and popular literature—in short, of all other American institutions that have attempted to furnish all classes of people with information, instruction and entertainment."

This Proves The First Liar Ain't Got No Chance

"Yes, Sir," mused the old district attorney, who must perform remain nameless, "there was a day in Outagamie when men were men and it wasn't a social error to eat pumpkin pie with the flat side of a knife."

"Why, I even remember," he declared, as he stowed away an eating portion of battle-axe, "a day and generation when a man was head of his own house and when the statutes regarding a man's home being his castle had more than a theoretical meaning."

"For instance, take the old horse trader who once lived on a farm back of where the city administration building now stands in Kaukauna."

"This old fellow was a confirmed bachelor so I imagine the surprise of his nearest neighbor saw him drive by with a woman on the wagon seat."

"As the story was told to me, the neighbor inquired as to what had occurred," the d. a. said.

"Wal, I thought as how I was aging a bit I better take me a wife—this gal is sound of limb and tooth, although she ain't what you'd call a filly," the old horse trader told his neighbor.

Six weeks later the neighbor again saw the dickener in horseflesh passing on his way to the grist mill, then situated on the present site of the girls' dormitory at Lawrence college. The time the old gentleman was alone.

"How's the wife?" said he.

"Neighbor," was the reply, "you've probably heard as how vinamin and horses is somewhat similar critters—wal, after I had this here one for nigh on a month she got mean so I took her out in the stable yard and killed her with an axe."

"But," and the graying district attorney yawned, "sugar and thunderation! (you see he is of a generation when men used strong epithets even to express mild emotions) what was I to do?—them were days when a man had some rights around his home and the horse trader only done his duty as he seen it."

NEWS OF NEENAH AND MENASHA

SOCIETY

COUNCIL PREPARES
TO PAVE STREETS
NEAR NEW BRIDGESBoard of Public Works Given Power to Make Necessary Arrangements

Neenah—Improvements of streets connecting with the new cement bridges now under construction over the Fox river, were discussed at the Thursday evening meeting of Neenah city council. The board of public works asked that the plans be changed to assist the contractors in completing the work required, this time. The request was granted, giving the board full power to act. One of the requests in shape of a resolution to have N. Commercial-st. from intersection with Wisconsin-ave. on the south and its connection with Water-st. on the north, permanently improved by paving with concrete; another was to notify the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power company to line up its trolley poles on N. Commercial-st. and to erect cement or iron poles to conform with those to be erected upon the bridges. The Wisconsin Telephone company was given permission to install conduits, poles and anchors on Commercial-st. before that street is paved.

Mayor Bernhardt told the council that it had been insulted by a Neenah person who had said that the council was receiving its street grades adjacent to the bridges from the Kimberly-Clark office. This was brought about by a slight change in the grade along Commercial-st. which necessitated some changes in property lines. Alderman Laurson said that a person making that statement should be ignored and the statement dropped as though it had not been made.

The city will clean house of some of its old machinery by advertising for bids on the old fire engine, road roller and garbage wagon which are taking up space and are beyond repair. A heated discussion resulted when Alderman Martin asked for a light on Wisconsin-ave. between S. Church-st. and the Soo line tracks. Alderman Laurson objected saying it is poor policy to place lights between streets. The entire council took a recess and visited the locality after which the request was rejected.

To complete the gallery of portraits of former mayors of Neenah in the city hall, a committee was given power to ascertain the cost of securing an enlarged picture of each mayor. The street commissioner was ordered to place sand at all intersections of streets, especially Wisconsin-ave. and Commercial-st., when these crossings become slippery and endanger traffic. Clerk Harry Zemlock asked the extra committees to make out a list of extraordinary expenses for the coming year so that he can place them on the tax budget which he is preparing. A new ambulance, automobile for police department, new road roller, completion of Island park, new high school building, paving of S. Commercial-st. and Wisconsin-ave. are among the projects on next year's program.

A new boiler for thawing out catch basins is needed and although the city recently purchased a boiler, it is not satisfactory and will be sold or traded in part payment for a larger one. The committee on streets was given power to secure the boiler. The request of the hockey team for a part of Columbia park for an ice rink was granted and the west end of the park will be set aside for the club's use. Orders will be issued to the Chicago and Northwestern railway company to hurry the work on lowering the tracks at S. Commercial and Third-aves. by paying of Commercial-st. is started in the spring. The raft built for the public bathing beach last summer by Neenah Kiwanis club was accepted as city property. A license was granted to hold public dances at S. A. Cook armory. Bills totaling $9,849.68 were ordered paid.

FACTORY FIREMEN
GET RAISE IN PAY

Company Shows its Appreciation of Services They Give

Menasha—Members of the fire department of Menasha Wooden Ware company were guests of honor at a luncheon Thursday noon at the company's cafeteria. Mayor N. G. Remmel was speaker.

"I suppose a number of you men are wondering what this is all about," Mr. Remmel said. "But before I tell you I want to say to you men who have been in service for so many years that I have been a fireman since 1895, and you all know that Mowry Smith is a fireman."

"After the last fire Mr. Smith called me to his room and in speaking of the individual part that each one of you had in putting out that fire, and in recognition of the faithfulness you have shown, requested that the pay of the chief and each one of you men, as firemen, be raised.

"And so I am very happy to have the privilege of informing you of this token of appreciation. When men with families such as each of you have and who are working hard every day, accept the duty of a fireman it is certain that he is not accepting it for any financial consideration. We know and appreciate the fact that it is your splendid spirit of loyalty and service, and we want to recognize it."

In any organization as large as ours, regardless of how hard we try, it is sometimes hard to arrange things to suit everyone, but we do our utmost to be fair and please all.

"It was in 1890, shortly after the big fire which occurred on a pay day night and which destroyed the saw mill and other buildings, that we organized our fire department into an efficient fire-fighting organization. Since that time no fire has been serious and the credit is due to the capable men in this organization; to the splendid and efficient work of the city fire department; and to the large amount of water we are capable of throwing in case of an emergency. As firemen we must not forget our chief engineer and good friend, Frank Theisen, for he is always on the job and it is to him that we have to look for our water supply.

"This company means much to the prosperity of Menasha. Your efforts have not been for the company alone, but you have rendered wonderful service to the city of Menasha. This company means much to the success and welfare of the hundreds of people working here. You men have helped to keep the record of that great payroll unbroken. Through your loyalty, honesty and service you have earned honorable recognition from your company and your city which I am sure you will never regret when you come to the end of life's journey."

HINT KINSINGER GIRL HURT AFTER FALL IN ARMORY

Jury Hears Appleton Young Woman Was Injured in Industrial Accident

Testimony indicating that the serious injuries for which Miss Lyola Kinsinger, formerly of Appleton, is suing Charles Maloney, occurred at Appleton Coated Paper Co. on Sept. 5 instead of at a skating party in Armory G. as Miss Kinsinger now charges, was introduced during the trial of the suit in Oshkosh on Thursday. Miss Kinsinger is asking $19,000 for injuries alleged to have been suffered in Armory G.

Attorney John Kluwin, representing Maloney, read from a transcript of evidence taken at a hearing before the Wisconsin Industrial commission to show that Miss Kinsinger had testified in that hearing that the injury which caused her to be shorter than the other was suffered in the Coated Paper company accident. Mr. Kluwin asked the court to instruct the jury to disregard the evidence introduced by Miss Kinsinger on the ground that she had already received compensation for the injury. The court, however, said he would deny the motion until further evidence had been presented.

Emory Schneider, floor manager for Mahoney at the skating rink in Appleton, testified that he assisted Miss Kinsinger to the dressing room after the accident and bandaged the girl's arm which was injured in the fall. At that time, he stated, she did not mention an injury to her hip. Miss Kinsinger has made no claim for the injury to her arm.

Schneider also corroborated the testimony given by Maloney that the lighting in the hall was not defective. He also said that in his opinion the Armory was a much safer skating rink than most places of that kind. He also told about signs posted in the hall to the effect that skaters were at their own risk in going on the floor.

PROPOSE HIGHWAY TOUR NEXT AUGUST

Board Members Still Look Favorably on Jaunt Over County Foads

That the proposed highway trip of the county board of supervisors may yet become a reality, but not this year, was indicated Thursday afternoon when a proposal to introduce a resolution to the board specifying that dates between August 15 and 30 be set aside for the tour was under discussion.

Weather conditions at this time, it was pointed out, virtually prohibit an inspection and it is believed that the summer dates would prove more advantageous on account of the amount of new work that would be nearing completion at that time.

There are 396 miles of concrete, gravel and dirt roads in the county and it is estimated that the tour could be made in two days. One day would be devoted to new work and one to inspection of sections of road where further construction is contemplated.

A program of music and readings was given at the party. A piano selection, Grieg's "Wedding March" was played by Mrs. Harold Heller and two vocal selections, one of which was "Adoration," were sung by Mrs. Blanche Kubitz. Mrs. Fugh gave a reading "Hoodooed" and another reading was given by Mrs. J. F. Forman.

PROPERTY RIGHTS IN ETHER

The Chicago Tribune has performed a public service in instituting a test suit to determine the rights of broadcasting stations in the air. It has just won a case in the state circuit court at Chicago against the Oak Leaves station of that city, which had usurped a wave length in such close proximity to that of the Tribune station as to interfere with reception. The court granted an injunction prohibiting the defendant from broadcasting that field.

The court for the first time establishes the principle that property rights may be created in the air, and that the rules of common law may be applied to it. Since there is no statutory law governing these rights, it is a matter of great importance,
both to broadcasting stations and to the public as well, that they are defined by a court. The sympathies of the country will be altogether on the side of the proposition advanced by the Tribune and upheld
by the court.

When congress adjourned at the last sitting without enacting an obviously badly needed law regulating radio and establishing property rights in the air, it left the industry in a chaotic state. Before this a considerable number of large and important stations had established themselves by broadcasting for a number of years on a fixed wave length. They were the high-class stations and gave the public its best entertainment and information. They occupied a band known as the high wave lengths. The low wave lengths were occupied by the lower powered stations, most of which gave poor programs. On the whole, the better stations were sufficiently well isolated, including geographical separation, as to give the public excellent reception.

After congress adjourned without responding to the widespread demand for federal regulation, a number of the poorer stations on the low wave lengths moved up into the higher band and appropriated wave lengths that suited their fancy.
Among the offenders was the one against which the Tribune instituted suit. These stations furnish low-class programs, and make themselves a nuisance by heterodyning stations which habitually gave superior entertainment. Heterodyning due to the crowding of stations is a greater annoyance to the listener-in than any other fault of radio. It frequently happens that on a hook-up of eight or ten high-powered, high-class stations, broadcasting the best talent the nation affords, listeners-in have difficulty in securing
any one of them.

It is to be hoped other stations which are having trouble with trespassers will take steps to protect their property rights in the air as the Tribune has done. Many stations are nothing but a common nuisance, and some stations have usurped a wave length to which they are not entitled. They should be weeded out, and it appears that a way is open to do this.

In the meantime, one of the first things
congress should do at the coming session is to enact a comprehensive law for the regulation of radio in the interest of the public and of those broadcasting stations which have done so much to develop good radio and whose property rights in the air should have adequate protection.

ENGLISH QUITS

Federal Judge George W. English of the eastern district of Illinois, who was to appear before the senate at Washington
to face impeachment proceedings, has resigned under fire. It was probably the best thing that Judge English has done in recent years. By an overwhelming vote
the house of representatives preferred impeachment charges against the judge
at its last session, which, under the constitution, put him before the senate for trial. While the charges made against Judge English did not include actual corruption upon the bench they did include almost everything else that could bring the administration of justice into disrepute.

Judge English was an appointee under the good fellow regime of Attorney General Daugherty and lived up to the standards of that time. His appointment as a federal judge goes to show the far-reaching and hurtful results felt here and there
all over the country and naturally resulting from the character of the attorney general at the time of the English appointment. Under a stricter administration at Washington, such as is now in force, men of the Judge English stamp
could never be appointed to the judiciary.

THE KNOTHOLE CLUB

Lawrence authorities have brought the college and the city closer together by organizing youngsters under senior high school age in a "Knothole club" and inviting them to college football games as its guests. Last Saturday about 600 boys cheered and rooted for the college team
during the game and they have been rooting for the college ever since. Tomorrow these boys and as many more as want to "join" the club, again will be guests of the college.

This organization of boys for the purpose of taking them to football games is a good thing in many ways and has the approbation of teachers and most parents. There is hardly a boy in Appleton who doesn't want to see the football games and if he hasn't the money to buy tickets he tries to see the game through other means. When they "sneak" into the field and their moral standard is lowered for the boys realize when they enter the athletic field without paying and without being invited they are being dishonest.
There is no need for any boy to be dishonest to see football games now.

Adult spectators whose attention often has been distracted by milling, jostling
boys now are able to enjoy their games without interference, because the boys are segregated in one section of the stands and remain there during the entire game. The boys are orderly and apparently enjoy the easy discipline which the "Knothole club" makes possible.

These boys who are seeing football games as guests of the college will be the strongest boosters for Lawrence. They never will forget what the college did for them as youngsters and when they reach maturity there will be fine college supporters and much of the apathy toward Lawrence now noticeable in Appleton will be eliminated. The "Knothole club" is a good thing for Appleton boys and it is a good thing for Lawrence.

TEMPTATIONS OF YOUTH

Now wandering with Caesar through the various fields of Gaul
And fighting with the Romans doesn't interest him
at all
For who would follow Caesar in some ancient tame affair
When the Tunney-Dempsey prize fight is being shouted on the air?
They give the youngsters home-work as one time
they gave it me,
He's supposed to find the value of 3x plus 2y.
But an algebraic problem is a trifle stale and flat
When Alexander's pitching and Babe Ruth is at bat.
I may tell him that I studied through the winter
evenings long.
That I traveled my tough examples till I knew that none was wrong.
But when I was reading Caesar by the lamplight's mellow glow
The room was always quiet, for we had no radio.

Now the nights are filled with music, and the air
is full of song.
There's a prize fight in the parlor, you can hear the ringside song.
You can hear the crowds applauding as the battle
begins.
And I wonder that a youngster ever gets his homework done.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician And Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped

WHAT TO DO ABOUT RHEUMATISM

Hippocrates gave all physicians an oath, the gist of which is this: Do good if you can, but do no harm. That's my motto here. As a rule I begin every talk about rheumatism by asserting baldly that there is no such disease. This naturally makes a good many victims or rheumatism hopping mad.
Now the puzzle I am trying to solve is whether this does "em good or harm. And here, I think, is a question to which there is no categorical answer possible. Hopping might be as bad for some cases of rheumatism as the jumping toothache was for Mark Twain's case. On the other hand, exercise is one of the most helpful remedies for some cases of arthritis. So I still maintain there is no such disease or ailment as rheumatism, believing that this will do good in cases where the trouble is of such nature as to permit hopping, and no harm in cases where they can't react in this manner.

Rheumatism isn't much like the weather. People are always talking about the weather, as Mark Twain complained, but nobody ever does anything about it. People are always talking about rheumatism and always doing something about it. What they do about it, though, has about as much affect as talking has on the weather.

For instance, heat in one form or another is certainly a grateful and sometimes really beneficial agent in the treatment of chronic arthritis, but this does not apply to heated chiropractic collo-quies nor to the arid or one faith in Jouselm.
In regard to these highly intellectual forms of exploitation of rheumatism the laity is still in the red flannel underwear stage.

But seriously, what should one with chronic joint inflammation do about it?

First, he should understand or try to comprehend
that a dozen or more of various complaints of pain,
stiffness or lameness are popularly called "rheumatism," and often even a good doctor finds it difficult to distinguish one complaint from another, to establish a real diagnosis of the trouble. The first thing to do about "rheumatism" therefore, is to have a general physical examination and have a thorough one—which means you must be completely undressed.

The physician will carefully study your past medical history and your living conditions and habits.
He will make a search for foci of infection in the throat, nose, sinuses, teeth and gums, gall-sac appendix, urogenital tract. If any such focus is found and there is a question about its connection with the joint trouble, the physician will seek the opinions of experts, specialists in various lines.
Right here is where too many rheumatism sufferers have made serious errors—they have substituted direct action, passed up the "ordinary doctor"
and sought the opinion of this or that specialist
for themselves, a mistake which has led to considerable maltreatment and disappointment and distrust of the focal infection "theory"—which is no theory but an exceedingly valuable principle when intelligently employed.

The examination should include blood count, urine tests, perhaps X-ray studies of some conditions, Wassermann test if syphilis be a possible factor.
Assume the examination discloses a focus of infection deep down in the crypts of a tonsil which looks healthy on the surface. Presently we'll consider what to do about it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Grandmother and Mother
Now that I am married and entering the state of motherhood I still lack confidence to ask mother.
Grandmother always said about such question
"That is for each to learn for herself," and mother followed suit, so both my married sisters and I realize now that we have suffered needlessly because of our ignorance. (Mrs. H. D.) Answer.—Grandmother and mother were conventional, but cruel nevertheless. You should write to the labor department, Washington, D. C., and ask for the pamphlet "Prenatal Care." Many readers assure me they obtain this valuable pamphlet free
if they ask the labor department for it. (This pamphlet is issued by the children's bureau of that department). But if one hates to take something from the government for nothing, the pamphlet may be purchased at a nickel a copy from the government printing office. I have a letter of advice for expecting mothers, which I should be glad to send you on receipt of your request together with a stamped envelope bearing your address. Those who desire more extended advice and instructions than this letter or the government pamphlet gives, will find the book "The Prospective Mother," by Dr.
Margis Stearns, an excellent guide. This is published by Appletons. I do not know the present price, but the book should be available in the public library.

LEWELLYN POWYS OBJECTS

Recently Lewellyn Powys indulged in two or three columns of objection
to John Erskine's best-selling novel,
"The Private Life of Helen of Troy."
The Powys tirade was printed in a widely circulated literary magazine
and it has already produced a half dozen answers.

Powys held that John Erskine had committed what amounts to literary sacrilege by dragging the Homeric legend of Helen, high theme of the greatest epic in the world's history,
down to the level of a 1926 society novel. Powys, who is himself a thoroughgoing skeptic in religion and who would in all probability not hesitate to make a Bible story the subject of a book of his own, feels deeply disgusted because John Erskine makes Helen and Menelaos and Orestes and Hermione and a dozen other Homeric characters talk and act
about the way a group of sophisticated people would talk and act today.
He evidently has loved the high poetry of Homer since boyhood and he cannot bear to have the familiar characters robbed of their epic glamor.

SHOWS HIS RESENTMENT

His point of view is understandable.
The devout Christian would probably feel the same way if the same thing were done with characters
in the Old or New Testament.
To Powys the love of Homer is very evidently a kind of religion and he resents it when some one drags his religion down to the level of polite
drawing room talk.

But it often happens that those who carry their religion to the point of fanaticism lose their sense of humor
in regard to it and also their sense of proportion. Very evidently that is what has happened to Powys. For an intelligent reading of "The Private Life of Helen of Troy" will show almost any fair-minded person that John Erskine is not writing about Helen or Menelaos or Orestes or any of the other Homeric characters at all. He is writing about the people of today, the men and women of 1926.
True, he uses the Homeric names and the Homeric situation but he does not even pretend he is writing a picture of the life of that time.

Exactly the same story might have been written about a number of famous literary episodes and characters. For instance, around the story of King Arthur and Guinevere, I suspect that Erskine may at one time have had that situation in mind and he may even have planned to write his story around it rejecting it in favor of

Q. What style "bob" has Queen
Marie? S. M. M.
A. Queen Marie has a "Los Angeles"
bob. This style of bob was introduced in Paris early in the spring by Mrs.

feature of this type of hair cut is its unusually long side which, instead of being brushed backwards over the

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

The Fish That Always Is "Looking Around"

Strange Fish Of An Ancient Family

BY ARTHUR N. PACK
President, American Nature Ass'n.
This strange fish belongs to a very ancient family and is otherwise remarkable in many ways. Its name is Perlophthalmus, which comes from two Greek words meaning "looking around," in allusion to a peculiar habit. It is partial to mud flats, where it sits around on stones or protruding roots, entirely out of water, supporting itself by means of the two strong pectoral fins, which are used as arms.
In this position the fishes appear like large tadpoles, but are more interested in their surroundings. They watch everything that goes on about them, their prominent eyes, which are capable of protrusion, giving them an advantage over most creatures.

At the slightest alarm, they skip for shelter, sometimes to the water but just as likely landward, where they often climb the projecting roots of trees, or even the stems of bushes or other plants.
In all their movements they are assisted mainly by the pectorals,
which are furnished with strong muscles, and by the aid of which they can grasp the stem of a bush as a boy or a bear hugs a tree trunk when climbing. They are found mainly about the shores of the Indian Ocean.

See-Sawing On Broadway

By Gilbert Swan

New York. — Shrewd young men ever are on the alert for new ideas
in the gentle art of providing opportunities for those who would violate the prohibition amendment.
Many schemes have come and gone and many fortunes have been made. The latest wrinkles is that of "leasing bars" to those who wish to
"throw parties" in a different way.
A number of these bars have been set up in various sections of Manhattan. If a moneyed gentleman wishes to entertain a few friends the accommodating "caterers" get everything in order. They retain an old-fashioned bartender, dress up the bar
to look like the old days, put in a supply of liquor and scatter sawdust over the floor. The walls become adorned with naughty pictures and the atmosphere is made as nearly correct as possible.

The guests arrive to find the host
with a foot on the rail and the party
begins.
Many of the quite wealthy old gents
are not content with this mere rental arrangement. They want the bar set up in their own homes for the party.
The "caterers" stand ready to undertake this as well. All the "properties" are on hand and within a few hours — there you have it! The venue, I am told, has already gained wide favor and the shrewd young men who conceived the idea have more than they can attend to.

One team, in particular, does not even supply the liquor. It attends strictly to providing barroom atmosphere. So that no time may be lost,
a collapsible bar has been contrived
and may be carried from place to place.

There are hundreds of automobile owners in New York who never take their cars out before midnight.
Knowing the futility of trying to go through midday traffic and using their cars only for pleasure, they wait until the rush is over. Then for a couple of hours they spin down
Fifth Avenue and through Central Park, enjoying the slight peace that settles over the highway.

Only on Sundays do these cars reappear in daytime, and I know one man who would not think of taking his machine out on any other day
other than the Sabbath. And he hastens to get outside the New York city limits.

Q. How many copies of "The Smith Administration" are in existence? M.

A. This suppressed book is by Kipling. There are but six copies known to be in existence. Three thousand copies were originally printed.

Q. How long is the longest subway
in the world? N. G.
A. The longest in the world is the new tube connecting North and South London which extends 16 1/2 miles. It was opened on September

Q. Would you please tell me how many different kinds of whales are able to swallow a man? G. F. C.
A. The Bureau of Fisheries finds no record of a whale being able to swallow a man whole. The throat of a whale is considered small.

Q. What is "galvanizing"? C. E. H.
A. Galvanizing is a process by which metal sheets and other parts passed through a pot of molten zinc take on a protective coating of that metal. The coating must be thin enough to permit forming into spouting, cornices, gutters, etc., without cracking, and so permitting corrosion
to take place at the exposed portion;
and thick enough to provide satisfactory durability against the effect of atmospheric gases, moisture, etc.

A. Two women have succeeded in swimming the English Channel—

Q. How many pencil marks be removed from a quilt completed? F. B.
A. A soft eraser such as art gum can sometimes be used successfully in erasing pencil marks on textiles.
Soap and water is used for washable materials. Use the soap freely and rub the stain thoroughly.

Q. Did the United States furnish an exhibit to the London Exposition of 1851? T. E. R.
A. The United States sent to this exposition held in Crystal Palace an agricultural display, as well as such articles as Colt revolvers, a trotting
"sulky," chandeliers and kerosene lamps, McCormick's new reapers, pianos, plows and farm machinery.

MINISTERS NAMED BETWEEN CANADIAN AND U. S. NATIONS

Canada Tired of Being Represented Officially by British Ambassador

Washington—Canada soon is to have a minister in Washington, and the United States will have one in Ottawa. It was Canada which grew tired of having to depend on the intermediation of the British ambassador in the transaction of diplomatic business between the Washington and Ottawa governments. The new arrangement suits the state department perfectly. That the Canadians want not so much a clever international politician here as a good business representative is indicated by the selection of the Hon. Vincent Massey for the Washington post. Except that he accepted a portfolio in Premier W. L. McKenzie King's cabinet, Massey's interests have been largely commercial. He isn't at all the type of man an old world foreign office would have picked for such a job, but does know about trade.

As the United States appointee to Ottawa, Roger L. Sherman of Massachusetts, has strong backers. Sherman, an expert in the canning and packing of food products, is engaged on a large scale in the development of the exchange of such commodities between the United States and Canada—that is, the sale here of such as are peculiar to Canada and the sale in Canada of those more readily available on this side of the border. Naturally his activities have given him a wealth of information concerning the two countries' mutual interests and the opportunities for each in the other's field.

Whether Sherman would accept a diplomatic appointment is open to some question. He certainly would do it, if at all, at a heavy financial sacrifice. There is considerable inclination, however, to draft him for the work, as perhaps better equipped to handle it effectively than any other man in the country.

To Canada, his supporters point out, he would be the most acceptable of ministers. He is representative in the United States of the Cooperative Federation of Quebec, with 30,000 membership, has the endorsement of the Canadian government and has vastly increased Canada's American markets. For obvious reasons he stands well at Ottawa. There can be a profitable inter-

Housewife Need Not Worry Over Thanksgiving Meal Now

"Say Dad, why doesn't mother make some nice home made maple syrup and candy and apple cider and pies and cakes and puddings and stuff like they tell about in this book 'Days of Long Ago'?" questioned the American youth.

"Because, my son," answered the all-wise American pater, "them days is gone forever."

And that is indeed the truth, according to several Appleton dealers in palatable tempters. The American housewife no longer needs to fuss and worry and sweat and slave for a week before the great feast of Thanksgiving to prepare a meal fit for the kings. Instead, a day or two before the annual turkey feast, mother calls her favorite grocer and says something like this:

"Please send me five pounds of cranberries, a pound of mixed nuts including the paper shell walnuts, cultivated pecans, almonds and brazils, a plum pudding and one of those fine fruit cakes and perhaps a dozen or two of my favorite cookies. Also send a gallon of apple cider, a can of maple syrup and a pound of maple sugar, two dozen pounds of mixed chocolates, a dozen bananas, a dozen oranges, two dozen of the best apples, a can of pumpkin and some mince meat."

And there is the Thanksgiving dinner, except for the turkey. She calls the meat market and up comes the turkey all dressed and ready to put in the oven for the finishing touches that tempt many an eye and stomach to go beyond the limit.

DON'T WORRY ANY MORE
The day of long work and worry over the success of the Thanksgiving dinner, when it was usually judged by whether or not everything disappeared as fast as it was displayed, is past, according to Appleton grocers.

In place of this old fashioned, and yet much loved custom, comes the modern grocer with his array of good things to eat that eliminates all the unnecessary fuss and bother.

Most housewives buy pumpkin and mince meat from the store for baking pies, although some women even order their pies ready baked from local bakeries. The cracking of nuts, usually hickory, a few walnuts and butternuts for a week ahead so that the supply might not be too easily exhausted in the after dinner nut eating contest about the fireplace is also passe. Apple cider was used to wash the nut meat down and home made candies were offered for variety.

In the place of this custom comes the variety of nuts, produced by an over alert selection, with paper shells. The family can gather around a fire place heated by electricity or gas and crack these nuts with their fingers. Apple cider, of whose origin the consumers know nothing, is used to wash down the nuts and factory made chocolates are eaten for variety. Very few women bother to make homemade candies when it is so much easier to ring their favorite store and buy it so reasonably.

A big line of fresh vegetables and fruit of every description also is obtainable for the present day Thanksgiving feast. Even the most unusual of these articles may be obtainable at a short notice from the dealers in large cities.

Along with the other goodies offered to tempt the eye and stomach of the consumer are candied fruits, which are becoming more popular every year, according to local grocers. This includes candied pineapple, strawberries, cherries, lemon and oranges. Jams, apple sauce, pickles and relishes can be obtained at low prices which eliminate the annual canning period. Sugared and stuffed figs and dates are popular and stuffed and plain olives also are a part of the Thanksgiving dinner in many homes.

On a whole, prices this year are at practically the same level as last year, local dealers say, but advance sales indicate an increased consumption.

EVELYN BRENT

NEW YORK—She might have leaned back in her chair and luxuriated as wife of a film magnate. But Evelyn Brent enjoys acting and work.

Her husband happens to be S. Fineman, one of the inner circle of the Paramount concern, but that hasn't hindered her career. What is even more interesting, she has been content to play in not-so-good roles as a means of fighting her way up on a basis of personal merit.

Now, as you might have anticipated, she is beginning to sit on top of that particular part of the world reserved for stellar film folk. A co-star in "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em," which soon will be broadcast through the movie houses of the realm, she will begin work at once in another top role under the direction of Edward Sutherland.

TEST OF HER ABILITY

These two pictures, in all probability, will give her a definite place in the "who's who" of cinema.

But a few months ago Evelyn Brent stepped out of the serais—one of the many hair-breath-escape thrillers that run on and on, leaving the heroine hanging to a straw at the end of each sequence. Doubtless there is a large flock to whom the actors in such time-worn vehicles are important; but there are all but lost to the rank and file of fans.

After a stage career of some little promise Miss Brent disappeared in the general direction of London and became a screen idol of England up to that time when the Britishers practically gave up screening her.

WISDOM IN WAITING

When she married a heavily incriminated major domo of the film industry many predicted that she would fade from the pictures. But Evelyn Brent belongs to that class of young women called "modern." A little wheedling—considering the position her husband—might have landed her immediately in the rear of the list.

She is wise enough to know that it's one thing to be labeled and another to live up to the label—a truism well known to any purchaser of alleged gin or Scotch. She preferred to make her approach gingerly and see what happened.

Filmfodm's prediction is that she will

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

THE Tymnites had never had such heaps of fun, and they were glad that in the icebox they had found a lot of things to eat. Although there were no forks or knives, they had the time of their young lives by nibbling with their fingers which they thought was quite a treat.

They'd climb upon the shelves, and then, for exercise, climb down again, because they knew that exercise makes appetites real strong. Then Scouty shouted, "My, I'd love to see what's in that door above Let's pry it open. We can put things back where they belong."

So, when the shining knob was tried, the upper door flew open wide, and Copyy hopped right in the place, but quickly turned around. "We'd best keep out of here," said he. "It's just as cold as it can be." And now, of course, you all can guess that ice is what he found.

By this time, they were all filled up, money bought if I had to go naked," lath said with gingerous quietness.

"Well say," Chivy began in naive astonishment. "Oh, there's the doorbell! Don't bother, I'll go."

She returned in a very short time, her face wiped clear of all expression except that of blank astonishment. In her hand was a letter, which she held gingerly, as if it were contaminated.

"Can you beat this?" she asked slowly. "An anonymous letter! Delivered by a Western Union messenger! Here read it!"

TOMORROW: The mysterious, anonymous letter.

A tiny cartoon is printed by the company on the inside of the

from saucer, plate and bowl and cups. Then Caro shouted, "Listen, I can't hear what I've to say. A dandy car is in the yard, and it wouldn't be so hard for us to load it up real big, and take some food away."

They laughed and all agreed that such a plan was good. "Don't take too much," said Scouty as each Thymmy grabbed a box. Then the Leader after food was quickly sent out to the cart. Away they went with food that very likely Mister Farmer'd never miss.

And, as they traveled 'cross the yard, old Clowny sure was laughing hard. He'd sneaked out of the woodshed and was sitting in a tree. They don't know where I am, he thought. Perhaps they think that I am caught, but wait until they leave that food and then they'll quickly see.

Paris.—(A)—French girl golfers, following on the links the local Englishers, will make a bid for golf world's honors next year.

Many Busy Women Owe
Their Health to Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fifty years ago there were few occupations for women. Some taught school, some, did housework, some found work to do at home and a few took up nursing. Today there are many few occupations not open to women. Today they work in great factories with hundreds of other women and girls. There are also women architects, engineers, artists, executives, and legislators. But all too often a woman wins her economic independence at the cost of her health.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain who works in the Unionall factory making wallboards writes that she got "wonderful results" from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mrs. Chamberlain lives at 500 Monmouth St., Trenton, N. J. She recommends the Vegetable Compound to her friends in the factory and will gladly answer any letters she gets from women inquiring about it.

Is Now Ready to Recommend Dreco to Anyone Suffering from Poor Appetite, Indigestion, Gas in the Stomach or Heartburn.

No higher praise can be given any medicine than for a person to be so pleased with it themselves that they tell their friends about it. One recommendation like that is worth more than all the proposters of the medicine could say about it. That is the secret of the enormous sales of Dreco which is now being introduced by the Dreco Expert at Schlitz Bros. Drug Company. Everywhere it is sold people tell their friends of its marvelous powers to restore the vital organs to healthy action.

Read how it helped Mr. Jake Mack, the popular Freedom, Wisc. farmer. He says:

"Although I am still a young man I have suffered for several years with my stomach. No matter how little I ate, and it was not that, for I had scarcely finished my appetite, I was sure to suffer with indigestion afterward. My stomach would bloat up with gas and at times it felt like my stomach was filled with hot coals. Sour heads used to rise in my mouth after every meal."

"I read so much of Dreco I finally decided to try it and I am now convinced that it is the best medicine anyone in my condition could take. I now have a fine appetite, and even though I eat twice as much as I used to I'm now no longer troubled with my stomach in any way. The gas and heartburn have been relieved and I'm never bothered with the acid risings anymore."

Mr. H. W. C. Marr Baker, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Schlitz Bros. downtown Drug Store is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco have suffered considerably during the last few best results. Go to see him.

MIX'S "TONY" LEADS WILD HORSES IN APACHE AUNTS

"Tony Runs Wild," Fox Films latest Tom Mix production, at the New Bijou today and Saturday.

The setting for "Tony Runs Wild" is along the Apache trail in Arizona's land of wonderful scenery. The action of the story carries the picture to the border and through the interiors of the ancient Cliff Dwellers' homes of a race that vanished from America centuries ago.

The story is a Mix's "Tony" an opportunity to perform more of their feats of strength and skill, and thrills that are new even for this pair of film stars make this the most striking of Mix's long line of thrilling productions.

"Tony" is pictured as the leader of a band of wild horses. He is captured and tamed and then released. At the climax of the production, in the final scene, he answers his master's call, leads his wild mates in a rush that saves the hero and the heroine from being shot to death by desperadoes. Mix himself says this is "Tony's" best picture and "Tony" says it's Tom's best production.

In addition to Mix the cast includes Jacqueline Logan, Lav. Davidson, Duke Lee, Vivian Oakla, Edward Martindale, Marion Harlan, Raymond Wells, Jack Padjan, Arthur Morrison and Martin Faust.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

JUDITH MARTIN, a young teacher at Pendleton University, is admired by ERIC WATERS, head football captain, and Dr. PETER DORN, astronomy professor.

MYRA ALDRICH, a spoiled beauty living at Judith's boarding house, hates Judith because of Eric's attentions to her.

Dr. Dorn, a co-worker with DEAN TIMOTHY BROWN on the discipline committee, disapproves of Judith's student friends.

With Eric, Judith gets into numerous scrapes, among them a dinner at a restaurant which is raided, and a moonlight hike from which she is compelled to accept a ride home with "KITTY" SHEA, town ruffian, because Eric has drunk too much.

Dean Brown tells her that his wife is going to visit friends in a small town up-state, but Judith sees her in the city hotel where Judith has come for a week of relaxation. Mrs. Brown is escorted by a handsome man.

When she returns to Pendleton Eric gets off the same train and Dean Brown sends them together. Mrs. Brown sends for Judith and throws her into her room where she will not speak of having seen her in town.

During this conversation, the dean comes home and says sweetly, "I trust you and Mr. Waters enjoyed your week-end trip, Miss Martin."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVII

The umbrella fell down and the dean stooped to pick it up again. He had not met Judith's eyes.

Judith pulled her scarf around her. "I don't know how Mr. Waters enjoyed his trip. I enjoyed mine very much, thank you." She was shivering with cold.

Dean Brown began to remove his overcoat. His sleeves stuck and he cast a resentful glance at his wife who sprang to help him. "Oh," he said, "I saw you returning with him and naturally thought—"

"I don't care what you thought," said Judith. "I went to Middleburg alone. I don't know where Eric Waters went. Good by, Mrs. Brown."

The dean's wife gave her a glance of pleading. The dean caught it. Judith was approaching the front door, and Mrs. Brown ran after her. Dean Brown followed and stood in the arched door, watching them.

"Good by," Judith said again to the wild-eyed and speechless woman. She stepped out on the porch, and the front door shut out the blushed face of Mrs. Brown.

Judith hurried on down the street. The sun had dropped behind the western sky and the brass knucklers on the professor's houses no longer shone yellow. His elms overhead were rustling and dropping leaves in showers.

She crossed the bridge and made for the campus almost at a run. It was in shadow for the western buildings screamed it from the low rays of the setting sun.

She hurried across the central path. The mounds are still distinct in the twilight. They lifted their rounded heads against the smooth lawn just ahead of her.

A man emerged from behind them and walked toward her. At first Judith scarcely noticed him, so absorbing were her own thoughts. But when he came a little nearer and stood in the path before her, she started back.

"KITTY" Shea hunched his trousers up and staggered toward her. "Howdy, Judy, fine evening, ain't it?"

Judith did not answer, but he fell into step beside her. She walked faster and he burst into laughter.

"What's the hurry? Plenty of time before chow. Not six o'clock yet."

Still she did not speak. When they reached the turning point in the path-way, she saw two men students a little way off, and made a movement as if to run to them.

But Shea caught her by the arm and twirled her around violently. "Look here you, can't afford to be so damn choosy with me. You and young Waters? I got you both right where you can't squirm or squeal."

"What do you mean?" demanded Judith, throwing back her shoulders. Shea stepped still nearer and thrust out his black jaw. "Well, there's the Blue Moon. And if there wasn't the Blue Moon, there's Lover's Leap, AND the ride home."

He put a hand on her wrist. But before Judith could scream, someone intervened. The two youths whom she had seen on the path ahead had heard Shea's voice and returned.

One of them struck at the man, but Shea was gone, in a lurching gallop across the campus.

One of the boys started to chase him, but came up and came back. He peered into Judith's face. "Did he hurt you? Why—it's Miss Martin!"

Judith looked at him dazedly. The boy giggled. "Guess I ought to get an A in Latin after this." It was the thin, spectacled youth in her Horace class.

She thanked him. "But who was the fellow?" asked the other man. "And what was he trying to do?"

Judith's horn-rimmed receiver spoke up. "Brighten up, silly ass, couldn't you see he was trying to hold her up? Why, he was grabbing for her purse—just when I socked him."

Judith did not contradict him. But the other boy was not satisfied. "Look to me like that 'KITTY' Shea that hangs around the garage downtown. 'Bout his size and walk."

They went on toward College road in silence. Judith was still uncertain of her voice. At length the boy who had last spoken took up the conversation again. "Wonder if it was Shea," he mused. "Don't see what he'd be trying stick-up stuff for. Sh'd think he made all the trouble he could use in his bootlegging."

Judith looked up. "Is that his business?"

The boy laughed and nodded. "Didn't you know it? Most of the hooch around in Pendleton comes down from Middleburg by auto. And the auto is driven by none other than our friends back yonder—if it was he, 'Why don't you file charges against Shea?' he said. 'He's a bad one. Somebody ought to get his goat.'"

Judith tried to speak naturally. "I couldn't afford to get mixed up in such a mess," she said. "You see, teachers have to be very careful what they do, and what the public thinks. Besides, I haven't any proof that it was Shea—or whatever his name is."

They left her at the Stedway door. Dinner had begun when Judith entered the house. She went to her room and freshened her face and hair. Then she went back downstairs and into the dining room.

It was beef stew, night for Sunday dinner had centered around a roast of beef. The salad, too, was a rejuvenated and disguised version of yesterday's pineapple and cheese.

In spite of recent emotional disturbances—or perhaps because of them—Judith ate heartily. The sensation of warmth light and cheerful talk about her gradually smoothed the worried lines from her forehead.

"Where is that cute Myra Aldrich?" asked Sissie of Miss McGonigle. "I miss her so when she isn't here. Don't you LOVE her black hair and those gorgeous reds she wears to enhance it?"

Miss McGonigle's mouth was too full for conversation, but she nodded. One of the Reasys answered in her place. "Do you mean the red she wears in her clothes or on her face, Sissie?" she asked.

Sissie flew to the defense. "What if she does rouge? So do we all. So would you, if you knew your eggs."

Myra Aldrich is a darling! Every body picks on her."

Lillian Stedway's cool voice cut in from the foot of the table. She spoke as if to the entire table but she fixed her condemning eye on Sissie. "Please try to avoid quarrels at the table, girls," she said. "They're very hard on the digestion."

"So's your old hash," muttered Sissie.

Caroline McGonigle said, "Myra's gone out to dinner. Saw her dolling up fit to kill. She wasn't here for any meals yesterday. Seems to me she's out more than she's in, these days."

Sissie took a huge bite of cake. "My, it must feel grand to be so popular!"

Judith had papers to grade after dinner, but she found it hard to settle to work. She sat idly with the pen holder in her hand, and the bottle of red ink open before her.

The pile of themes diminished very slowly, and at eleven o'clock she yawned, stretched her arms and walked to the window. She opened it and let the cool night air blow into the room. Then she went back to the study and worked feverishly for two hours. At last the pile of papers had been gone through.

Judith raised her head and was straightening her cramped shoulders, when there was a noise on the porch below. She ran in the window by the balcony and looked out. All was still in the yard. A car stood parked a little way up the street, evidently left for the night by someone staying in the next house. Its headlights were out.

A squirrel began to chatter sleepily in the tree opposite Judith's window. The noise of the house, however, came from her scurrying feet on the wooden floor of the porch.

Judith turned back to the light, and began to get ready for bed. She brushed her hair hastily, for she was very tired.

With a sigh of relief she reached for the electric light switch and got into bed. She was shivering between the cold sheets when the noise on the porch repeated itself. This time it was unmistakably the scuffling of human feet.

Judith ran to the open window again. A muffled dialogue in male voices was going on. But there was another sound that made Judith strain her ears. It was the sound of a woman sobbing.

She threw on her bathrobe and ran into the hall. A night light was still burning over the head of the stairs. The noise from the steps, keeping her eyes on the glass of the door.

Outside, unnoticed against the street lamp, were the figures of two men. They seemed to be holding

WANT SKATING RINK IN FIRST WARD DRAINED

The city either will have to drain the grounds of the First ward school on the corner of E. North and N. Mendests in the spring or refrain from flooding that site for a skating rink in winter. Mayor Albert C. Rule told the council Wednesday night.

Residents of the ward have threatened to serve an injunction on the city preventing it from making a skating rink of the school grounds if no better draining facilities than now exist there are provided, according to Mayor Rule.

Complaint has been made because of the alleged unhealthy condition of the grounds in spring, residents of that vicinity declaring that the site is covered with water and mud until late in spring.

The matter was referred to the board of public works with power to act. The council appeared inclined to view the complaint with favor.

And to take the position that drain pipes should be placed on the rink. The more sunlight grass gets the more palatable it is, recent agricultural tests show.

something between them. While she watched, they propped their burden against the door frame and ran.

Judith rushed to the door and flung it open, and Myra Aldrich fell into her arms.

One of the best things experts ever made for me is a new-type hair dress. I call it my Wave and Sheen.

It keeps hair as you wish it. If you wish fluffy hair like mine, just comb it backward and the fluff will stay. If you wish waves or curls, use combs or fingers in the usual way, and the curl will stay. If you have a Marcel wave, my Wave and Sheen will keep it. Or it keeps hair sleek and smooth for those who want it without stickiness or grease. It will delight you, whatever your idea on hair dress. It gives a luster, enhances the color. Keeps the hair in any style you like.

PACKERS PREPARE FOR EASTERN TRIP

Face Bears and Class of Eastern Pro Teams on Jaunt Through Country

Green Bay—These are busy days in the Packer football camp because, aside of extra long practices and blackboard talks at night, the players are getting ready for their football journey which will take them to Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit.

The Bays face three of the toughest clubs in the league in eight days Sunday sees the Packers in action against the Chicago Bears at Cubs park. Thanksgiving Day, the Bays are doing their stuff in the Frankfort stadium at Philadelphia and the following Sunday Green Bay performs in Navin field, Detroit, against Jimmy Conzelmann's Panthers.

The Bears and Yellowjackets are standing one, two in the National league percentage table while Detroit is just a few notches below the Packers who are resting in fourth position. This is just as tough an assignment as any spoke in the field has had to face this season.

However, the Packers will start their three-game travel in the pink of condition as there isn't a man on the squad listed as a hospital patient. In past years, the Bays have generally gone into the Bear game with one or two cripples.

Unless all signs fail, there will be a young "army" of Green Bay Packer fans in Chicago, Sunday. Many of the football followers are going down Friday night to take in the Wisconsin-Chicago game on Saturday and then attend the Bear encounter Sunday.

The complete schedule for the Packers' trip is as follows:

Saturday, Nov. 20—Leave for Chicago over C. & N. W. at 7:05 a. m. Arrive Chicago, 1:00 p. m. Team will stay at Parkway hotel.

Sunday, Nov. 21—Play Chicago Bears at Cubs park.

Monday, Nov. 22—Leave Chicago at 12:05 a. m. for Niagara Falls, N. Y. over Michigan Central. Arrive in Niagara Falls at 1:35 p. m. Leave Niagara Falls for Philadelphia, Pa. at 9:50 p. m. over Lehigh Valley.

Tuesday, Nov. 23—Arrive in Philadelphia at 9:25 a. m. Team will stay at Adelphia hotel. Practice at Frankfort field in afternoon.

Wednesday, Nov. 24—Practice at Frankfort field.

BIG TEN TEAMS END YEAR ON SNOWY GRID

Snow Flurries, Chilling Winds Greet Gridmen; Gopher Field Sold Out

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—Into the teeth of snow flurries and chilling winds five Western Conference eleveners trekked Friday, toward the final battles in the Big Ten campaign.

The teams were clad like Alaskan dog mushers, in hoods, extra sweaters and mittens, and found Saturday's gridirons buried in straw and canvas to take some of the hardship out of the coldest football of the fall.

In the van of the invasions were Michigan and Northwestern, the two teams undefeated in the conference title fight and ending the season with desperate efforts to get nothing less than a tie, and possibly a lone claim on the championship.

Yost took 34 players to Minnesota, where Michigan is a slight favorite to down the Gophers before a homecoming crowd. Miolenda was all wrapped up in tape and his ankles may keep him out much of the game. Minnesota's stadium is a sell out for a look at what is called the best team Doc Spears has turned out in many seasons.

Northwestern, taking no chances on an upset worked out in the snow and departed for Iowa with the entire squad in tow. Iowa is worried by the possibility that Kutsch will not lead the assault on the Purple.

At Illinois, Zuppke counted all his regulars in shape and announced the lineup starting against Ohio will be the array that stopped both Chicago and Penn. The Buckeyes descended on the Illini with Captain Karow and a dozen others intent on a fitting close of their college gridiron careers and pummed to push a smart aerial game.

Indiana bent on balancing successive conference defeats with a triumph over Purdue invaded LaFayette where Phelan indicated the likelihood of changes in Purdue's lineup.

Stage drove Chicago in a final session before the renewal of traditional rivalry with Wisconsin, coming out of the north with a passing attack to humble Chicago. Chicago has a brace of new plays for use against the Cardinal.

At Notre Dame, Rockne cast about for a team good enough to halt Drake's Missouri valley football and still not cramp his style for Carnegie Tech or the following game with Southern California.

Madison—Rube Wagner, sophomore line-man of St. Paul, Minn., was awarded the George Little scholarship cup at the annual Ladger homecoming mass meeting here. In addition to earning his way through school, Wagner has been a stellar performer on the Wisconsin grid squad, and averaged better than 88 per cent in his scholastic work. Coach Little offered this beautiful silver trophy last spring to the Wisconsin football player who should excel in scholastics as well as football.

PRO GRID UNABLE TO HOLD PUBLIC—ROPER

Philadelphia—(AP)—"Professional football will never have the hold up on American public that the college game has" says Bill Roper, Princeton coach. He gave his views at a luncheon to the University of Pennsylvania football team.

"The college players go into the game and give everything because of their sentiment for their alma mater," he said.

"The professionals play for money and players will do more for sentiment than they will for any material gain."

SATURDAY GAMES

NORTHWESTERN VS. LAWRENCE

Lake Forest vs. Carroll.

With George A. Whiting athletic field in much better condition for an intercollegiate game, than for a conference football game, Coach Mark Catlin's Bluebirds from Lawrence, Mo., will play host to the Northwestern college squad of Watertown in Wisconsin-Ilinois conference and state title battle. The Lutherans are one of the surprises of the season, having scored on every team played, including Carroll, in the first quarter, as well as trouncing Lake Forest, a 50-0 rating in the conference, the best they have achieved for years. With Northwestern's record this year and the field of snow which will make the piskun difficult to handle, Lawrence will have its hands full to win the battle which means much to its team. A win will give it a chance at the W-I title should Lake Forest make use of the snowy field to beat or even tie Carroll, while the Blues must win to back their claim to the state title.

Line plunges which failed against the heavy Carroll team on a slippery field may be employed to vary the attack. Carroll made use of the muddy field to get off large gains on plunges and the Blues have the weight advantage over the Lutherans so may attempt the same stunt. However, Lawrence had no plungers like Bizer and Lund. The Blue aerial attack may not go so good with the slippery ball and the soft footing for the receivers.

Starting the game will be the men who have started the last two battles against Beloit and Carroll and played in such great style. Many of the boys will be playing their last games for the Blue and their work should be their best of the season. These include Hipse, Weinbaum, Capt. Counsell, Bayler, Briese, Nason and Heideman. The starting lineup will be Hipse as center; Steensland or Schauer and Weinbaum, guards; Capt. Counsell and Ott, tackles; Hillman and Jessup, ends; Blomquist, quarterback; Briese and Nason, halfbacks; Bartell, fullback.

The Blues have had only one real practice this week because of the heavy snow and the winds, but this may help rather than hinder their play Saturday as they will be ready to "tear." It also will aid in spoiling the effects of a "let down" after the terrific fight against Carroll in which they were keyed up to the highest tension. After the Marquette game when the same thing happened the effects were noticeable for almost two weeks.

STAR FRESHMAN GUARD LEADS 1930 BADGERS

Madison—John Parks, Muskego, Wis., has been elected captain of the University of Wisconsin freshman football team. Parks has been playing at a guard position on Coach Glenn Holmes' yearling outfit all fall and has distinguished himself by his smashing defensive play when opposing the varsity. The husky sophomore is a fast moving forward, tipping the scales at 192. He was an all state guard when playing with the Muskego high school eleven.

The first meeting of these foes dates back to 1924, and since that time an annual game has been held with the exception of the years 1926, 1927 and 1928.

Three of the four contests that were played to a draw, were scoreless affairs. It is interesting to note that in the recent Chicago Badger battles there has been a glaring lack of touch downs. In the last seven games but eight scores have been counted by both teams. The 1925 victory by Little's eleven, 0 to 7, was the most top-heavy score registered in years.

CARDINAL HAS GAME EDGE ON STAGGERS

Wisconsin Has Won 13 Chicago Games, Lost 12 and Tied Four Battle

Madison—Thirteen victories, a dozen defeats and a quartette of ties games constitute the record hung up by Wisconsin's football team in their thirty-two years of grid relations with the University of Chicago. It remains to be proven at Stagg Field Saturday whether or not the thirteen wins will be a stumbling block to George Little's boys.

Although the Cardinal has but a single game advantage in victories over their ancient Maroon rivals, Wisconsin has amassed 353 points in the 29 games, as against 210 by Chicago.

Chicago—(P)—The two undefeated teams of the Western conference are slight favorites over their opponents Saturday. Thus it appears that Michigan and Northwestern are likely to share the 1926 football championship honors.

If one team wins and the other loses the situation will be perfectly clear, but if both teams lose there may be as many as four claimants to the honors. Ohio, Illinois and Minnesota are but a step behind the leaders, each with a record of one win and one loss.

Michigan and Northwestern are

TWO APPLETON MEN OFFICIALS IN NEW BADGER CAGE LOOP

Eddie Kotal, Warren Wright Get Jobs; Kimberly Athletics in League

Two Appleton basketball officials and two former local men are included in the list of 15 officials who will have charge of cage battles of the 1927 Wisconsin State Basketball League, according to a decision made at the first meeting of league managers Monday evening at Kohler. The final schedule of the league also was officially approved. Kimberly-Clark Athletics of Kimberly, winners of five districts, state and league titles last year, will be a member of the loop. The K-C men last year won the Eastern Wisconsin Home Talent League banner, the championship of the Kimberly-Clark mills of the county, the district and state amateur titles and the district professional title.

The Appleton officials in the loop will be Eddie Kotal, former Lawrence college athlete star, and present Packer backfielder, and Warren Wright of the high school faculty, an assistant cage coach of the Orange. Gerhardt Kubitz, and Tony Hertel of Manitowish, both former Appleton men also are on the list. Kubitz is an old Appleton high and Lawrence star. Other officials will be: Brady, Fond du Lac; Peters, Manitowish; Froehlich, Kohler; Landowski, Fitzgerald, Morgan, McNutt, and Stollberg, Milwaukee; Hall, Oshkosh; Feni, Pewaukee; Kutz, Port Washington; Wergin, Sheboygan Falls; Gunderson, West Bend.

The managers were entertained at a banquet after the meeting by the Kohler Co.

A schedule of 15 games, eight at home and seven out of town, faces the K-C Athletics in the loop while the Kimberly men draw a bye in the seventh week of play. A bye is necessary for one team each week as there are nine squads entered in the circuit. Kimberly opens the loop season on Tuesday, Nov. 30, invading Plymouth, and the final battle on Monday, April 4, brings West Bend to Kohler.

Latest reports from Miami show that Clifford Courtney, Appleton boy, has been elected first captain of the Miami university football team, so far undefeated. The local youth has starred at halfback in every game and with Ted Bieker has Florida sport scribes singing the praises of Appleton, Wis.

In one way Carroll pulled a fast one with its claim to the Wisconsin title, but as it is backed by the league constitution, the claim cannot be beaten. However, the Waukesha college looked into the rule book to find the solution while had the positions been reversed, the Pioneers would have never thought of looking up the regulation but would have claimed a "paper" tie with the Blues right off the bat, rule or no rule. Lawrence has the best claim to the state title, just the same, with the Beloit win under its belt.

Athletic director George Christoph will get his first real chance at coaching duties in the next few weeks after the grid suits are in the mothballs and cage work starts. The former Blue athlete will be in charge of this year's squad and he has only about 10 real players in the school outside of the frosh. Attempts are being made to schedule two nearby Big Ten universities for games now that the one-year rule is in full force here.

The blues will have to base most of their hopes this year on four regulars of last year, two of whom alternated most of the season. Forwards back are Heideman and Clark with Briese and Grove at guards. Reserves of last year are Sund, center and Steensland, and Hillman, guards. Others who are available are Hilton, frosh star, Schlagenhauf, and a few members of the 1926 frosh crew. The biggest loss this year are Zussman and Courtney, speed forwards, and Ashman, center. The latter two still had a year or more of play and would have given Lawrence one of its best teams in years, had they returned to fill the vacant jobs. Heideman, Hilton, Clark and Sund would have been a team hard to beat.

Ten Card Gridiron Stars End Careers On Saturday

Madison—(P)—As the gridiron activities gradually fade, the horizon of Wisconsin's sporting world, coaches at the Badger institution look forward to another year when youngsters of the sodded field will bear the cardinal colors into western conference games.

Ten veterans of backfield and line will hand in their uniforms when the grid ends the Chicago-Wisconsin game this weekend, and from the incoming sophomore recruits who have shouldered a large part of the Wisconsin team's burdens this fall and from the ranks of the yearling team a new Badger team must be drawn.

Ten members of the regular varsity team and one injured veteran will complete their collegiate careers Saturday and outstanding among this group are Capt. Doyle Harmon, halfback for the last two years, Rollin Harmon, already a seven-letter man in various sports; "Butch" Lett, whose

KIMBERLY CAGERS OPEN SEASON WITH WIN OVER GRIMMS

Athletics Show Snappy Attack to Trip Old Rivals by 20-11 Score

Special to Post-Crescent. Kimberly—The Kimberly-Clark Athletics won their first game of the season Thursday evening by defeating the strong Grimms Boosters by a 20-11 score. The game was fast and a battle from the start. The first quarter ended 4-3, the half 8-4, and the third quarter, 14-10, in the Athletics favor. Scheurle, Williams, and Courchane starred for Kimberly. Scheurle and Williams got three baskets apiece and Courchane two. Scheurle also played a nice game at guard. Boettcher and Koll started in a ringer apiece. C. Logan and Bai were the point getters for the losers; Logan scored two baskets and two free throws and Bai two baskets and one free throw. "Ossie" Cooke, captain and star guard was forced to leave the floor during the second quarter because of a bad thumb injury.

Last year Grimms defeated the Athletics in their first game of the season and Thursday evening was the first time the two teams met since then.

Point After Touchdown To Get Razzberry From Grid Coaches This Fall

Mentors Contend Importance of Extra Point is All Out of Proportion

Chicago, Nov. 19—(P)—The kick for a point after touchdown is due for another panning this fall. This play has come in for some hard knocks in the past, and the fact that several of the most important gridiron contests of the season were lost because of the failure of a youngster to boot the ball over the cross bar after his team had worked mightily to score a touchdown, has caused renewed ranking in the breasts of the partisans of "t" teams who were, in a manner of speaking, the goats of this play.

Coach Fielding H. Yost led an attack on the try for a point after touchdown several years ago, and it is an odd coincidence that his team was the beneficiary of this rule in the terrific struggle with Ohio State last Saturday. Clark, of Ohio State, failed to bump the ball over the bar after his team had scored a touchdown, giving Michigan a one-point victory, the score being 17-16.

Another outstanding case of a game in which the one point after touchdown decided the issue was that at Los Angeles, when Stanford nosed out Southern California. Cornell had a one-point margin over Dartmouth last Saturday, and there were other games in which the victors ran off the field with a victory because of failure to boot the oval between the uprights.

Those who are opposed to this play contend that the importance of the kick is all out of proportion. After a team has battled its way down the field and lugged the ball over the goal line, some football men believe it is not right that the team scoring should be compelled to kick a field goal for one little point, which may or may not win or lose an important game.

The proponents of the kick after touchdown put forth good arguments. One of the stock arguments is that this always has been part of the touchdown play. The rules specify that even if time is up and a team scores a touchdown, the kick following is to be allowed as it is a part of the play. Also it is pointed out that the kicking game would suffer if this feature of the game were thrown out. Field goal kickers of necessity must practice for hours, and the necessity of booting the ball after the major score encourages this phase of the fall sport.

The present system of scoring was arrived at with the idea of balancing the difference between two field goals, and a touch down coupled with the added point earned by the kick. A touchdown is considered the major score, and if completed gives seven points against two field goals which count six.

The contention is advanced that a touchdown alone should count seven points, abolish the kick after scoring, and the balance would still be maintained.

Some football experts contend that the drop kick is not the correct method of kicking after touchdown. Kicking from placement is considered more certain, and is almost a sure method of getting the ball over the bar if the kicker and the player holding the ball work together with the center in long sessions of practice.

But the question reverts to the contention of some followers of the sport, which is: Should one man be responsible for winning or losing a game after the entire team of eleven men have worked as a unit in putting the ball over the goal line.

BLUES CAN CLAIM STATE GRID TITLE

Have Beaten Beloit, While Carroll Has Not Played Gold; May Tie W-I

While Lawrence college must concede the Wisconsin-Ilinois conference title to Carroll unless the Blue whip Northwestern at Whiting field Saturday while Lake Forest is either beating or tying Carroll, the Catlinmen have a strong claim to at least a tie with Carroll for the state college title, a claim which the Waukesha collegians cannot spoil.

Lawrence has beaten Beloit, tied Carroll and tied Ripon and it wins from Northwestern will have met every important college team in the state without a defeat. On the other hand Carroll has not even played Beloit so therefore really has no claim to a state college title because it has not played all the important teams, but must confine its claim to conference honors. Carroll has beaten Northwestern and Ripon and tied Lawrence. If Lawrence wins Saturday it will equal Carroll's state win mark and have an extra tie to its credit beside playing every college, which Carroll didn't do. This will give the Blue its state title claim.

In the W-I conference, Lake Forest can spoil Carroll's lone claim by a win or even a tie with the Waukesha while Lawrence beats Northwestern. In case of a Lake Forest-Carroll tie, the Lawrence and Carroll will be knotted for the honors, if the Blues win, with two wins and two ties apiece. Lawrence fans are praying for a fighting Forest team to tie the Carrolls on the snowy field, such as the Bluebirds did last week, but Carroll is on the home field, a big advantage.

Juniors 19, Faculty 7
Seniors 8, Sophomores 6

Juniors of Appleton high school won the 1926 interclass cage tournament Thursday afternoon when they swamped the faculty 19-7, to take their third straight victory over the rival squads. Tuesday they beat the Sophs and Monday they took their hardest battle of the meet from the Seniors, 16-14, to start the tourney. The winners had little trouble with the Faculty crew, taking an early lead and holding it throughout. They will receive a cup and will have their names engraved on the interclass shield.

Second place went to the Senior squad when it squeezed out a hard-fought win from the luckless Sophs, 8-6. Tuesday the Seniors ran up the biggest score of the meet on the Faculty after losing the tight game to the champion Juniors Monday. In Thursday's game the Seniors took an 8-2 lead at the half and maintained the lead at the third quarter but a belated Soph rally including baskets by Goehner and Johnston made it 8-6 with two minutes to go. The Seniors stalled away the remaining two minutes to win the battle.

The Faculty with its close 16-15 win over the Sophs came away finished third with one game won and two lost, while the Sophs finished last by losing three games by one, two and three-point margins.

GOATS, ENGINEERS IN FIGHT FOR ARMY PIGSKIN SUPREMACY

West Point, N. Y.—(AP)—A football game at the military academy Sunday will forecast the Army and Navy game next Saturday, if tradition holds.

It will be the annual meeting of the "goats" and "engineers." The entire corps will be there, partly because the game originally was devised for their amusement the week before the tilt with Navy, but mostly because a victory for the goats is supposed to mean triumph for the soldiers over the sailors in the annual service classic.

The goats, recruited from the fifty lowest in class standing meet the engineers, taken from the cream of the academy's intellect. The ice-cream of the combatants, a twice a week delicacy in the lives of the cadets, as well as the turkey of the Thanksgiving dinner hinges on the result. The losers get no frozen dessert and must be content with only the wish bones of the festive birds while the victors sup on double portions all around, Thanksgiving day.

For two years the goats have smeared the engineers in lurid style, winning last year's game 22-0.

HARVARD, YOST GAMES CARDED LAST SUMMER

New York—(AP)—Contracts between Harvard and Michigan calling for home and home football games in 1927 and 1928 to supplant the annual Princeton meetings on the crimson schedule were "signed, sealed and delivered" this summer, says an editorial in the Gotham publication of the Michigan club of New York.

The editorial entitled "you can't play in our back yard" compliments Michigan men for keeping absolutely out of the Harvard-Princeton fracas and says that the agreement was repudiated "when the big three got together and put Princeton back on the schedule."

Later Princeton dropped Harvard and Harvard took on Penn. "But nobody at Michigan seems to be gloomy because two games with Harvard were cancelled," the editorial goes on. "When you come right down to facts, Harvard in her present form would not be much of an attraction aside from the novelty of the game."

MADDEN OF COLUMBIA IS REAL GRID STAR

In Bill Madden, Columbia University has one of the outstanding backs of the current football season.

Madden is a great ball carrier, as good as the Blue and White school has had in some time. He's fast, a great dodger and exceptionally hard to stop once passed the line of scrimmage. Much of Columbia's success this fall has been due to Madden.

Madden is captain of the eleven, is a gritty leader and unusually popular with players and student body alike. This is his final year on the team.

SEIZE CONTRACTOR FOR TEARING DOWN INSPECTOR'S SIGN

Schaechner Has Noffke Arrested for Removing "Unsafe" Notice

Retaliating for his arrest several days ago upon charges placed against him by H. A. Noffke, contractor, Walter Schaechner, building inspector, Wednesday swore out a warrant for the arrest of Noffke for tearing down an "Unsafe" notice which the inspector had posted on a residence Noffke is constructing at 51 N. Mason-st for Ben Lutz.

Maintaining that he had found the workmanship of Noffke's below standard, the building inspector posted the sign a few days ago and ordered the work stopped. The sign was torn down sometime Wednesday by the contractor, Schaechner alleges.

Schaechner also swore out a warrant for the arrest of Henry Hegner on charges of building a structure without a building permit. Hegner, according to the building inspector, is constructing a shed at 523 W. College-ave without having secured a permit authorizing the work.

The controversy between Schaechner and Noffke arose earlier this week when the latter caused the arrest of Schaechner on a charge of wilful destruction of property.

The building inspector is alleged to have torn down part of the wall which Noffke was building. Schaechner stated he had examined the foundation and found the workmanship imperfect, and that although he had ordered Noffke to discontinue further work until the defects were remedied, the latter failed to comply with his orders.

Airways And Express Co. Join For Better Service

Washington—The last serious obstacle which stood in the way of success of the aerial express has been overcome, so they say at the aviation division of the Commerce Department. It was accomplished through the understanding by which the National Air Transport and the American Railway Express agree to work together.

The chief difficulty in the past has been in getting parcels to and from flying fields. The Transport was prepared to carry goods entrusted to it, but it couldn't send a plane to a warehouse shipper's door to get them or make door-to-door deliveries to consignees. That's what the American Railway Express will attend to in future.

Between New York and Chicago, aerial transport saves a day's time over transportation by rail.

Aviation fields are convenient, available at both points. The shipper can put his parcel directly on board a plane. The consignee can meet the plane and get what's coming to him. A day's saved.

But suppose a shipper lives in Poughkeepsie and a consignee in Peoria. The former must ship by rail to New York. There, unless he has an agent waiting and everything is coordinated, there's delay in getting the parcel into the Air Transport's hands. Between Chicago and Peoria there's "more delay."

On the aerial part of the parcel's trip a day is saved all right, but what good does that do if a day is lost before the flight starts? Another after its finish?

The remedy for all this delay, of course, is to meet the Poughkeepsie train at the New York terminal, get that package right out of the express car, rush it to the aviation field, toss

it on board a waiting plane, start the plane instant, dash the package out the minute it lands in Chicago and shoot it on to Peoria.

On that basis a full day is saved between Poughkeepsie and Peoria, as well as between New York and Chicago.

This takes organization—men on the job, swift automobiles, and coordination of schedules. The combination has been lacking hitherto. Now it has been supplied.

Of course aerial transportation won't be confined to the New York-Chicago hop.

The Commerce Department looks forward to a time when every city and town of importance will have its aviation field, but it points out that the assembling and delivery of aerial freight always will be a separate problem from its movement for longer distances.

This has been something of a difficulty in the way of large scale, profitable air express development but the Commerce Department believes now that the puzzle is in a fair way toward speedy solution.

"Salted!"

A MERRY game of the old mining days it was. Shotgun loads of melted coin scattered into the walls of a worthless hole. Then some greenhorn investor baited into having a sample of the ore assayed—later to buy the "mine" on the faked-up promise of its richness.

Nowadays the same game goes on with motor fuel. Certain extremely light types of gas, such as "casing head"—very volatile but wholly useless for power—are injected into ordinary dull kerosenish fuel to act as a kindling stimulus.

Because it sparks fairly quickly, this "salted" product is palmed off on the unsuspecting buyer as a quality fuel—either at an unwarranted advance in price, or as a bargain at the regular price of low test fuel.

Wadhams 370 True Gasoline [at the Yellow Pumps]

starts quickly without aid from false "salting" because its entire body is made up of elements that have the double nature of quick firing and full power. These only come from the richest slice of the true gasoline portion of the petroleum—costing more than poor gas—but yielding to you and your motor the full rightful gallon's worth of true gasoline efficiency.

Fires on the dot—warms up sooner—accelerates more promptly—delivers the power and yields the miles that you pay for.

TAKE LABOR OUT OF LEARNING TO WRITE

Learning to write in pleasant ways was included in the demonstration of the economy writing system given by Mrs. Doris Van Kleeck of the Lurel Book Co. of Chicago, at a general meeting of grade teachers at the Lincoln school building Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Van Kleeck has studied names of alleviating the old "grind" of writing lessons, by the use of amusing rhymes and picture building in writing exercises.

The economy method will take the place of the old Palmer system. The speaker demonstrated the new and simpler system with pupils of the second and fifth grades in the Lincoln school. Individual demonstration were given Thursday and were continued Friday with teachers on the writing committee.

Change Meeting Date

Approximately 30 members of the Appleton Macmillan attend the weekly rehearsal Thursday evening at 8:15 in the hall. It was decided to hold the weekly meeting next week on Wednesday evening because of Thanksgiving on Thursday, the regular meeting date.

Housewives everywhere appreciate that pleasing fruit aroma in HNZO JEL.

SMITH TELLS WHAT PHYSICAL TRAINING DOES IN SCHOOLS

Principal and Coach Are Speakers at Parent-Teacher Meeting

Kaukauna—William Smith, Kaukauna high school coach and director of physical education in the grades, gave an interesting talk on Physical Education in Our Grade Schools as part of a "Know Your School" program at the Parent-Teacher's association meeting Thursday evening in the auditorium.

Physical education must be properly participated in if any benefit is to be derived from it, Mr. Smith said. He told of three great systems of physical education, the German, Swedish and English, and he explained the differences between them. Of the three, the English system, Mr. Smith said, covered the broader field. It is part of that system that is being used in Kaukauna. A half an hour each day is devoted by each grade to physical education. The primary purposes of physical education according to Mr. Smith is to gain a more correct posture of the body and to remedy minor defects.

Another interesting talk was given by Olin Dryer on Rules and Regulations That Govern Our Schools. Mr. Dryer explained that the state made the rules more than the city did and that locally, the people elected their school board which decided upon the school budget and the board of education appointed the school superintendent. It was that satisfactory to the state.

Mr. Dryer also said that the school authorities had very little trouble with students being absent from their classes. Less than 2 per cent were absent the year around. Cooperation between the parents and the teachers was necessary, he said, to make the children attend school.

Miss Boehm of the Park school illustrated how a class is conducted in school. The Kaukauna high school orchestra made its first public appearance. The orchestra sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. J. Farwell. Ten minutes was spent in community singing led by C. D. Towlesley.

Special to Post-Crescent

Freedom—The funeral of the late Theodore Timmers took place Saturday at St. Nicholas church with Rev. A. W. Van Dyke in charge. "After having been in bed half the time for a year with severe pains in my right side over the appendix, stomach trouble and bloating, which the doctors seemed unable to cure with medicine and advised operation as the only remedy, my nurse advised me to try MAYR'S, and its results have truly been wonderful as I am now entirely well and strong, and at the last election worked hard to elect my husband." ANNOUNCEMENT The Poultry Raffle Is Off

There will be no poultry raffle at Apple Creek, Sunday, November 21st, 1926.

The Retail Meat Dealers Association have publicly threatened anyone conducting such a raffle with arrest and prosecution on a charge of gambling and operating a gambling device.

This form of amusement has been customary in this county for many years and in a strict sense is no doubt a violation of the law.

My only objection to the stand that the so-called Retail Meat Dealers Association takes in this instance, is that they insist on prosecution under this law instead of taking a broad stand on all violations. It might interfere with THEIR PERSONAL PROFIT and therefore this particular form of gambling is objectionable.

I BOW TO THE LAW THE POULTRY RAFFLE IS OFF

— BUT —

I have a choice supply of poultry on hand. It is fresh. It comes to me direct from the producer at a low price. It is mine. I have the lawful right to sell it to anyone I choose at a price that suits me. There is no law that permits the Retail Meat Dealers Association to tell me what I shall sell my property for.

THEREFORE

If you want fresh, clean poultry at a price that will suit both of us, come to

It has every approved feature—self-basting cover; easily regulated steam vents; handy end and side handles; perforated tray to prevent burning. It is light to handle, yet strong and rigid.

THREE NEW FACES ON HIGHWAY BOARD AFTER ELECTION

McClone and Appleton Only Old Members to Retain Their Seats

Upset after upset marked spirited balloting when three new members were elected to the county highway commission by the county board Friday morning.

The election of this committee and appointment of county officers had been set as a special order of business for disposition at 10 o'clock and promptly at that hour Chairman Mike Mack brought down the official gavel and ordered the elections to commence.

Frank Appleton, town of Oneida, and A. M. McClone are the only members of the old committee to retain their seats. Chairman William Rohan, Appleton, member from the Second district, and Charles Schultz, Fifth district, were defeated. Mr. Appleton had no opposition and Mr. McClone won by one vote.

The new committee will consist of James Farrell, A. H. Diederich, L. Bushey, Mr. McClone and Mr. Appleton. Term is for one year. The old committee will hold one more meeting before turning over the business to the new management to their successors.

Competition was the keenest in a three-cornered race between McClone, William Tate and John Sawall. On the first test an over enthusiastic voter cast two ballots. The result was disallowed and on the second try the vote stood McClone, 21, Tate, 4, and Sawall, 16.

In another three-cornered fight, Mr. Schultz went down to defeat on the second ballot; the first count showing Schultz, 11, Diederich, 19 and H. F. Fuerst, 10, with a stray vote for Jackson. The final stood Schultz, 12 and Diederich, 29. Mr. Fuerst withdrew after the first round.

Three counts were required to unseat Jens, the first count disqualified on account of a blank ballot; the official tally stood, Jens, 15, Peter Jens, 13, and Mr. Bushey, 13; Jens, 17, Rademacher, 9, and Bushey, 14. Mr. Bushey withdrew and the final stood, 24 for Bushey and 17 for Jens.

Mr. Farrell defeated Mr. Rohan by one vote, 21 to 20.

FARMERS MUST FORM BLOC TO HELP SELVES

tions and established partisan affiliations, to form a bi-partisan defensive agricultural bloc or coalition of the Republican west and the Democratic south.

He stressed the fact that farmers have no objection to any equitable and fair legislation to promote the reasonable prosperity of the manufacturer, the railway, the banker, laborer or any other legitimate group or interest, but that they do demand that agriculture be put on an equality with all such national interests by being given the same measure of protection and help that has been accorded to them.

NEED AGRICULTURAL BLOC
"Up to date, this reasonable demand has been persistently and incessantly refused and unquestionably will continue to be refused until we are successful in creating a voters' agricultural bloc—non-partisan in character and irresistible in influence led by some outstanding champion of the farmers, like Governor Lowden or Judge Kenyon, who can not be bluffed, bought nor outwitted," he said.

"This agricultural bloc will be the only political bloc in Washington, in the nation, that is not sordidly class-conscious. It will stand for no special favors to individuals, corporations, classes or masses, but it will demand encouragement and protection for the farmer equal to that given by the government to other groups of loyal citizens engaged in like legitimate pursuits.

"We hold the truth to be self-evident, that as agriculture is our basic industry, the financial welfare of legitimate business, as well as of labor, is dependent upon the normal and reasonable prosperity of the farmer.

"Therefore, on grounds of sound public policy, as well as of elementary justice to a loyal and deserving class of citizens, our demand for financial and economic justice for the farmer will be taken before the tribunal of public opinion, the final and controlling power in these United States."

He presented figures covering the past five years, prepared by the federal department of agriculture, which showed that the crisis has actually or potentially bankrupted 40 per cent of the farmers of South Dakota, 42 per cent of the farmers of Colorado, 50 per cent of the farmers of Wyoming, 62 per cent of the farmers of Montana, and over 20 per cent of the farmers of 15 middle-western agricultural states.

What fair-minded man, he asked, will maintain that either common honesty or common sense will justify the nation in piling on the farmer so crushingly disproportionate a share of our national post-war deflation.

"In the face of these incontrovertible facts, the farmer's plea for relief legislation unflinchingly declares that the government can do nothing for the farmer, and that the farmer should keep out of politics," he said. "Unquestionably it is true that the government cannot legislate the farmer out of all his troubles, but quite as unquestionably it is true that there are certain varieties of difficulties from which the farmer cannot possibly extricate himself without the help of government."

APPROVES COOPERATIVES
Can any complacent apologist for "things as they are" show how, he inquired, except through the instrumentality of government, the farmer can hope to get the following:

Lower tariff schedules on things the farmer has to buy.
Lower taxes.
A stabilized dollar.
A system of giant power operated to give cheap electric current on the farms.

A credit system as well adapted to his needs as is the present system to the needs of business.

Law enforcement against profiteering "combinations in restraint of trade."

Legislation and administrative action favorable to cooperative marketing.

COUNTY BOARD EXPECTS TO FINISH SATURDAY

After the busiest session so far in the fall meetings the county board of supervisors adjourned to 9 o'clock Saturday morning shortly after noon Friday. This is half an hour earlier than usual. It is expected that the business of the session will be finished before noon Saturday.

Although much of the work Friday was partially routine the action of the board was speeded up considerably and a mass of important highway business was cleared away.

There still are several important reports to be submitted and a number of resolutions are expected to come up for final disposition Saturday. The question of snow removal probably will be among the most important items.

FOR A REAL THANKSGIVING

And reason enough! What woman wouldn't be thankful, with her most wearisome household task reduced to a few pleasant minutes? And with real cleaning—Hoover cleaning—in place of the "lick-and-a-promise" kind?

For this New and Greater Hoover sets a new standard of cleaning efficiency. It, alone, adds to sweeping and suction the remarkable principle of—POSITIVE AGITATION—without which the destructive, ground-in grit cannot be removed from your rugs. Because of it The New Hoover removes more than twice as much dirt, in the ordinary cleaning time, as even former Hoovers. (131% more, to be exact!)

May we bring a New Hoover to your home, and really clean a rug for you? No obligation—not the slightest. Just telephone, and set your own time.
